Victoria city's school tax rate for 1960 will be 19.39 mills, up 6/10 of a mill from last year's, City Comptroller Dennis Young computed yesterday.

The increase is equal to 60 cents on each $1,000 of taxable assessment, or about $3 on the average home.

Low-Paid Labor For Wenner-Gren

VANCOUVER (CP)—Outspoken CCFer Harold Winch said Wednesday he has heard that Swedish Industrialist Axel Wenner-Gren is recruiting low-paid European labor for work in the Rocky Mountain Trench development in British Columbia.

Mr. Winch, member of Parliament for Vancouver East, told a meeting of more than 550 unemployed workers here that a Danish friend had reported Wenner-Gren interests have been advertising in Danish papers for tradesmen.

"NOWHERE NEAR"

"And the rates are nowhere near the trade union rates in B.C.," Mr. Winch added. Secretary Pat O'Neal of the B.C. Federation of Labor also told of advertising campaigns in Holland and Denmark.

"We must do all we possibly can to prevent it," Mr. O'Neal said.

Attorney-General Bonner, who is also trade and industries minister, commented later in an interview that the memorandum of agreement between the B.C. government and Wenner-Gren B.C. Development Company stipulates preference shall be given to B.C. labor and materials.

He thought the report was a "malicious rumor," adding: "There is no scarcity of B.C. tradesmen and I am quite

A-Testing Opposition Outlined to de Gaulle

From CP and UPI

OTTAWA—Canada's opposition to further testing of nuclear weapons was reaffirmed in talks with French President Charles de Gaulle, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said yesterday.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the French president "gave the impression that patience and perseverance was preferable to haste in the approach to problem's dividing the East and the West."

De Gaulle told the prime minister that "a detente (easing of tensions) between the two would greatly facilitate the eventual solution of individual problems."

In Quebec City yesterday President de Gaulle told a Laval University audience that French life and thought are "indispensable if the free world is to go on."

So for the last 1,000 applicants, Ches has had to settle for nemesia, the current offering. Any readers who also asked for this seed, will get a double supply to brighten their gardens.

That was a total of 25 pounds of seed—an incredible amount gathered from every possible source. But the total of nearly 13,000 readers of The Daily Colonist who requested the seed was even greater. It was an all-time record response.

When it comes right down to sweetpeas in Victoria, you just can't fill the demand.

PENTICTON (CP)—A university professor loosed a blast at conventional thinking in education Wednesday night, and picked a convention of parent-teacher groups to do it.

Prof. Alan Thomas of the UBC extension department boosted radio and television as the best means of teaching, and derided the printed word as the "greatest form of anaesthetic."

Similarly, he told the annual convention of B.C. Parent-Teacher Associations, he scorns libraries and Library Week. "National Library Week, like the vote-as-you-like-but-vote campaign, is completely irresponsible. We are saying in effect it doesn't matter what you read, but read. The great percentage of books today are just tripe."

NOT TRUE
The youthful professor took issue with the contention that the family has betrayed the school in the upbringing of children.

"The reverse is true," said Prof. Thomas. "The schools have betrayed the family because they have tried, and are still trying, to assimilate the children."

DON'T KNOW
"Just how we can stop this trend I don't know. The tendency grows, and is still growing, and by assimilating the children, schools pose an open threat to the family."

He maintained the present generation is overly obsessed with the education of children. No previous generation was "foolish enough to think that education stopped after childhood."

LAST FOR LIFE
"In the past, they planned education to last a lifetime. There should be more concern for adult education. Our chief concern must be our own education—what we have had and what we can obtain."

MRS. SUSAN MOORE

Mrs. Moore 101

Creampuffs All Around

Saturday will be a rather special day for tiny, bright-eyed Mrs. Susan Moore, a patient at Manor Private Hospital—it will be her 101st birthday.

And yesterday, as she did last year, Mrs. Moore bought creampuffs for the 18 other patients in the hospital and the staff.

Born in Cornwall, England, in 1859, Mrs. Moore is a descendant of the original pirates of Penzance—later of comic opera fame.

In 1911, at the age of 52, Mrs. Moore migrated to Canada and a few years later she married Thomas Moore, a Vancouver engineer. Mr. Moore died more than 30 years ago.

HOUSEKEEPER
After her husband's death, Mrs. Moore worked as a housekeeper until she was 63, when she retired to Victoria.

Honored guests at her party Saturday afternoon will be her fellow patients—youngsters of 92, or less.

No Chimpanzees With Royal Rites

LONDON (UPI)—British newspapers reported yesterday that American television networks have promised to handle coverage of Princess Margaret's wedding next month with dignity—and no monkey business.

The British Broadcasting Corporation, announcing it had agreed to distribute wedding films of Margaret and ex-photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones on a worldwide basis indicated there would be no interrupting commercials. Two RAF Vulcan jet bombers are scheduled to make special flights to Canada May 6 with television video tapes of the wedding. The CBC said Tuesday night. The film will be shown at 9 a.m. PST.

Rhee Saving Face?

SEOUL (CP)—The 12-member South Korean cabinet presented its resignation this morning to President Syngman Rhee.

Their action was reported to have followed a decision to assume responsibility for the violent anti-government student riots this week.

NEXT MOVE

There was no immediate confirmation whether the 84-year-old president, returned unopposed to his fourth term in an election the students claim was rigged, had accepted the resignations. The ministers quit en bloc.

Rhee's government has been officially rebuked by the United States and criticized by other countries for undemocratic handling of civilian demonstrators.

JOY AFFECTED

President Rhee, as the continuing executive power, is not subject to the ups and downs of cabinet membership.

A cabinet resignation might enable him to save face by shifting the target from himself to his departed ministers.

Heavily armed troops and police kept up a vigilant guard. The death count from Tuesday's rioting, now at 115, seems likely to reach or pass 150.

Ship Sinks Among Sharks

MANILA (UPI)—A fishing boat with 110 persons aboard and only one lifeboat, reported early today that it was sinking in the South China Sea.

The U.S. Navy destroyer Isvell was en route and a U.S. plane dropped two rubber life rafts to the 97-ton Marli V, which was foundering in an area infested with man-eating sharks.

The ship radioed, "Water in engine room. No hope. No hope."

Fulton Stuck in Lillooet

No $13,000,000, No Ride

A mere $13,000,000 might not have put federal Justice Minister Davie Fulton on a PGE freight train at Lillooet on Tuesday, but it might have won the sympathetic ear of the railroad's president.

Advised at a press conference that Mr. Fulton was denied passage on a PGE freight, Premier W. A. C. Bennett, who is also the line's president, was quick to point out that the publicly-owned railroad has never received some $13,000,000 which it claims is due from the federal government, in construction and operating subsidies.

Anyhow, he added, "Mr. Fulton did not contact the president of the railway."

The RCMP finally came to the rescue of the justice minister.

Mr. Fulton, now on a British Columbia tour, had to be in Pemberton, 42 miles away, for a 1.30 p.m. meeting, and the regular passenger train of the provincially-owned PGE wasn't scheduled to arrive until 6.30 p.m.

The justice minister was told he could not board the freight. Only train crew and the RCMP allowed, an official said.

An appeal to PGE head office in Vancouver was turned down.

DAVIE FULTON

Mr. Fulton travelled 14 miles on another PGE train to Shalalth, where the road ends. There he intended to take a speedboat to D'Arcy—another 14 miles—where the road begins again.

The water was too rough for speedboats, so the justice minister cooled his heels.

An RCMP Beaver aircraft happened along on "routine patrol" and took Mr. Fulton to D'Arcy, where he took a taxi to Pemberton. He arrived at 4 p.m. and told patient Conservatives he had been "detained by reasons beyond my control."

W. A. C. BENNETT

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

MIGHTY hunters of Oak Bay police force shot seven woodpeckers that were reported to be damaging trees down Woodburn Avenue way.

Residents blew the whistle on the feathered vandals because they blamed them for the slow death of their oaks.

After the slaughter, the trees died anyway. It wasn't the woodpeckers' fault. The real culprits were the contractors who had built the houses in that subdivision.

When they levelled the ground, they piled earth a couple of feet up the trunks of the trees. Trees that have their base smothered in earth always die. They may live for a few years, but suffocation gets them eventually.

City-dwellers in their carpeted, glass-fronted nests are getting too touchy about wildlife. That's because they see so little of it, I suppose.

A glimpse of a bear, squirrel, raccoon or bat sends them into a panic. They summon the police, who come thundering into the subdivision with drawn pistols and shoot down the offending bird or beast.

The police probably feel that they are doing their duty in executing lower creatures for the crime of being alive in a world full of people.

They would be wise to think twice about it. There is no reason why they should always jump to obey the commands of citizens whose attitude to nature can be summed up in the phrase: "It's moving; kill it."

If someone phones to complain that his little boy is actually being carried off by a wolf or a cougar, that's different. In such a case, a policeman might well decide to help.

But police should not allow themselves to be bullied into slaughtering harmless animals.

Even if some creature is actually doing harm, is it really the job of the police to interfere?

Once police allow themselves to be drafted as everyman's pest control squad, there is no telling what they will be called on to do.

Taxpayers will begin asking them to stamp out carpet beetles and termites in the house, or rid the garden of earwigs, slugs and weevils.

Riot Reaction

Rhee Will Fall, Reds Declare

LONDON (AP)—Communist newspapers describe the riots in South Korea as an uprising against the regime of President Syngman Rhee and U.S. influence.

The Soviet government organ Izvestia said the demonstrations "foreshadow the inevitable fall of the regime which rests on a double bar."

Go to Korea, Senators Urge Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Reports Wednesday that President Eisenhower may cancel his scheduled trip to Korea in protest against the tactics of Syngman Rhee's government drew quick complaints from key members of Congress.

Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate foreign relations committee and other lawmakers said they agreed with the administration's sharp criticism of the Rhee regime.

But they did not believe the situation would be remedied by cancellation of an eight-hour stop-over June 22.

LONDON (AP)—One of the two surviving sisters of Russia's last czar died here Wednesday while the other was near death in Canada.

Grand Duchess Xenia, 85, died peacefully in her sleep at her 22-room Hampton Court home after a lingering illness.

In Toronto, the other surviving sister of Czar Nicholas II, Grand Duchess Olga, 77, was reported critically ill in hospital—and had not been told of Xenia's death.

Nations Clash Over Salmon

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians and Japanese clashed Tuesday over the amount of salmon they are prepared to see taken from the northwest Pacific.

The Japanese proposed their salmon catch be fixed at 85,000 tons, the same as last year, or about half of what they asked at last year's negotiations.

The Russians proposed the Japanese take 50,000 tons. The Russians contend fishing at present levels is depleting salmon resources and the Japanese method of trapping salmon in open water before they reach Russian spawning grounds forces the Soviet catch steadily downward.

The Japanese contend salmon resources in the northwest Pacific are adequate.

The Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi expressed grave concern over the bloody riots, saying:

"The fuse that led to the explosion was probably the presidential elections, but we believe it was also the accumulation of dissatisfaction among the people with the policies of the government."

B.C. Bars Duty Dodge

British Columbia will deny trade licences to any duty-free retail outlets which try to locate along the B.C.-Washington border, Premier W. A. C. Bennett declared yesterday.

He said the operation of bonded warehouse retail outlets catering to the tourist trade would be "unfair merchandising, bad for the economy and of no advantage to the province."

NO LICENCES
The provincial government, he said, would deny such stores sales tax licences and, if they were situated outside municipalities, trade licences.

He said he was concerned over reports that a duty-free store, similar to two which are to open in eastern Canada later this year, is being planned for the B.C. mainland north of Blaine, Wash.

'RIDICULOUS'
He said that to licence such stores "would be ridiculous."

"This government is opposed to special privilege and discrimination," he said he doubted that any municipality would licence such an operation because of

Health Course Opens Today

A refresher course for 25 physiotherapists throughout B.C. by the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society will be held in Royal Jubilee Hospital today and tomorrow.

Included among visiting physiotherapists will be Mrs. Peggy Peterson of Victoria, Edna Dixon of Nanaimo and Marjorie Alton, who covers Courtenay, Alberni and Campbell River.

Brazil's Capital Moved Inland To All-New City

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — A new capital was born today.

At the stroke of midnight the unfinished, futuristic city of Brasilia — a completely new metropolis rising in the flat heartland of Brazil — took over from Rio de Janeiro as the national capital.

At midnight a marine band struck up the anthem and the city — previously plunged into darkness — glowed with light.

Later today the government — the presidency, the Congress and the Supreme Court — will be installed in ceremonies in the new chambers.

Heading the official delegation was President Juscelino Kubitschek, who started planning the city when he took office in January, 1956.

For a century Brazilians have dreamed of an inland capital aimed at uniting and opening up the interior of South America's largest country.

There has been some criticism of Kubitschek for pushing ahead with the plan. It has been condemned as costing too much and riddled with graft. Unofficial estimates put the cost at $500,000,000. But what Kubitschek and thousands of workmen have done here has been called a construction miracle.

Chou Makes 'Fair Offer'

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Chinese Premier Chou En-lai was conciliatory and Indian Prime Minister Nehru was cautious Wednesday night in speeches at a banquet after their first day of border talks.

Chou said the Chinese-Indian boundary dispute has "difficult aspects" but he was convinced it could be settled in a spirit of mutual understanding and mutual accommodation.

Nehru said any solution "must be in accordance with the dignity and self-respect of each country, as well as in keeping with the larger causes of peace in Asia and the world."

Observers here saw significance in a statement by Chou that a fair settlement could be reached which would "take into consideration both the historical background and present actualities."

They said this suggested Chou might recognize the existing northeastern border, or McMahon line, as "historical background" if India recognized China's occupation of territory in the Ladakh area of Kashmir as "present actualities."

In the Wrong Order

CONSTITUTED nearly two years ago, the royal commission studying curricula in British Columbia's educational system is preparing its report for the provincial government. Dean S. N. F. Chant, chairman, and two colleagues were given the task of studying what is being taught now in B.C. schools, with a view to making independent comment together with any recommendations which their inquiry might suggest. The commission, however, was expressly exempted from considering the costs of the educational system, how borne or in what proportion by provincial and municipal coffers. Yet it is the latter problem which appears threatening to B.C.'s educational system.

Time after time in the legislature and outside of it the Bennett administration was urged to bring on the financial inquiry first, because a growing number of municipalities complain of the present arrangement and have not been satisfied by provincial patching of taxation assessment and other means in an effort to adjust many serious irreconcilables. The government's aim — uniform school costs in all B.C. areas — was a good one, but it has not been realized. There seems to be little prospect that it ever can be so long as the junior governments have to find from municipal taxes costs which (as in the Victoria area) are considerably more than half of the total educational bill.

With this perspective in mind, it is a pity that the curricula report will be made without any reference to the financial roots of the matter, or the ability of B.C. taxpayers on the one hand and municipal ratepayers on the other to carry forward under the present system. Altering curriculum in the schools, if that is suggested, will not remove this problem. It is a complex and urgent one, as this paper has pointed out on many occasions. Up to the present the provincial government has resisted all efforts to launch a financial inquiry, with a view to more equitable apportioning of the weight of school costs between provincial and civic taxpayers.

If the financing problem had been faced first, the report by the Chant Commission would be more opportune and effective than it is apt to be in the circumstances. That is a pity, because there is no doubt that the commission's long study has been an earnest effort deserving consideration in the restricted field it was permitted to review. Sooner or later the cost of education, and how it can be more equitably carried, will have to be reviewed if there is not to be a much more serious crisis confronting British Columbia.

Millions Will Attend

A ROYAL wedding has never been precisely a private affair but the forthcoming nuptials of the Princess Margaret and Mr. Antony Armstrong-Jones promise to be the most public marriage ceremony in history. The guests will be numbered in the millions. Except for a mere handful they will of course be vicarious observers, but their attendance will be of no less interest thereby.

It is the magic of television that makes this possible. This will be the first televised royal wedding in Westminster Abbey, and TV organizations from Europe and from this side of the Atlantic assure an almost worldwide coverage. The actual filming will be in the hands of the BBC, which seems natural and proper since the BBC is "British" to many far-flung peoples, but transmission will be made through other networks. The films should be available for showing in Canada within a few hours of the ceremony.

In terms of looking on, therefore, the eyes of a large part of the world will be fixed on Westminster Abbey on May 6 and the TV participants are beyond count. Television watchers in fact will probably have a better view than the Abbey guests themselves. As sporting broadcasts have shown, the TV watcher enjoys the advantage of the camera eye, which transmits details often lost to the eyes of individuals actually present. More than half of the invited guests within the Abbey indeed will have to follow the wedding ceremony on TV monitors, since to those in some sections the choir screen will block a view of the sanctuary.

In England it has been announced that the 8,700 children of U.S. servicemen there will be given a holiday in order that they "can see the pageantry on TV." Pageantry is at the core of British history—and a royal wedding is replete with spectacular association—and no one stages it better than do British authorities. That is an additional reason why TV watchers everywhere will be glued to their sets on May 6, to attend vicariously the culmination of a royal romance that has captured public imagination.

Short-Cut to Court

THE new traffic ticket and summons in one, devised by the British Columbia government, is a common-sense simplification of an age-old unwieldy process of bringing before the magistrates persons accused of traffic offences. It will save countless hours of highly-paid police officers' time which up to now has been wasted in the often fruitless journeys to serve summonses days and sometimes weeks after the date of the alleged misdemeanor. Presumably it will also save convicted offenders the fee for service of summons which the courts add to whatever other punishment is inflicted.

Of less interest to the public is the fact that the copy of the ticket earmarked for the motor vehicle office will supply that department with uniform information on which to base statistical reports and analyses. Thus all concerned in cases of motorists' misconduct will be saved time, money and inconvenience. There is, however, one feature of this departure from police practice which is not so attractive. Apparently the new system places in the hands of even junior and inexperienced officers full authority to order citizens into court without reference to anyone higher up. It will be up to the magistrates hearing cases thus brought before them to see that there is no abuse of power on the part of over-zealous or officious policemen.

Apart from that, many motorists may find this short-cut to the police court working to their personal advantage if they believe themselves to be innocent. Too often in the past so much time has elapsed between an alleged offence and the service of a summons that the driver has forgotten the circumstances, is unable to find witnesses, and therefore cannot construct a defence. With the summons served on the spot under the new system the defendant if he wishes to do so can immediately set about the preparation of an answer to the charge.

Interpreting the News

Trade Ratio Stiffened

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

RUSSIA appears to have won its point that Canada must give something before it gets markets in the Soviet Union. Under the new three-year trade agreement between the two countries, the "something" must be Canadian purchases of Russian goods. And only private Canadian businessmen are in a position to do that.

That is the difficulty raised by the "two-for-one" trade pact signed in Moscow recently by Trade Minister Churchill. Russia has agreed to buy $2 worth of Canadian goods for every $1 in Russian goods sold to Canada.

This mathematical formula falls short of the five-or-six-to-one ratio which has prevailed in recent years in Canada's favor.

The new treaty sets a target for Canadian exports to Russia of $25,000,000 annually—about double last year's $12,740,000. But before the Soviet Union can be required to buy that much, Canada's imports from Russia must expand almost six-fold from last year's $2,290,000.

Thus the new trade pact, after many months of negotiating, seems to meet what Ivan Kabanov, former Soviet trade minister, called "the principle of mutual-ity."

During a visit to Ottawa last year, Mr. Kabanov said this principle must be observed. He argued that the previous trade agreement, which expired February, 1959, was too one-sided.

That treaty required Russia to buy 14,800,000 bushels of Canadian wheat annually. But Mr. Kabanov complained that Canada was under no obligation at all.

The new agreement provides for Soviet purchases of about 7,000,000 bushels of wheat annually, worth between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 depending on the grade.

Thinking Aloud

... of shoes and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THE Johansson story is running in print these days with the Swedish heavyweight champion telling of his rise to fame. At least his by-line is on the story although it seems rather cockily-written to be his own wordage—"very few boxers have my power," for example—and there may be the hand of a ghost-writer in this as in other celebrity biographies. He uses one phrase too which has an English-language sound about it—"I hit him with a real snorter"—but of course his linguistic skill may equal that of his two fists and in Swedish a real snorter on the nose might mean the same thing.

The unfortunate recipient, anyway, is not likely to differentiate.

But what intrigued this scribe's interest was Mr. Johansson's question: "Why hasn't England got her longed-for world champion?" It is true, I believe, that there have been one or two British champions of this ilk but nevertheless British boxing, or prize-fighting, does not greatly illuminate the world scene these days.

Mr. Johansson's explanation is that English boxers do not work hard enough at the job, not as hard as he does, for instance.

Now the Swedish celebrity, and a nice amiable chap he looks outside the ring—inside it one shouldn't expect cordiality but instead a snorter on the nose—must know his stuff else presumably he wouldn't be a world champion. But perhaps Britons just don't like getting their noses punched, albeit there is the paradox that in the front lines of war they seem to have admirable aptitudes for combat. A philosopher, perhaps, could make good meat out of the difference. Or, indeed, of the fact that the reigning world heavyweight champion, and thus theoretically at least the fistic gladiator-in-chief of all living men, should currently be produced by a small Scandinavian country and not by one of the giant protagonists of the cold war.

But then doubtless Mr. Johansson has Viking blood in his veins and you know what those Viking chaps did when Norsemen were in flower.

Most of the world champions of this century, of course, of any weight, have come from across the line, from America, where if Mr. Johansson's dictum has verity they must work harder at the business of boxing one another's ears, right off if they can manage it. But there too, if one is racial bent—and race and color is a dominant theme just at the moment, with unmistakable combative tendencies—one must note another paradox, if that be the neat way of putting it. It is the colored man who seems specially adapted for the art of losing a real snorter in the roped square that is called a ring. Take away the black and brown champions and near-champions and what is there left?

Not too many exhibits No. 1, actually.

A philosopher could moralize on this point, happening he was a student of Toynbee and took humanity as a whole for his theme. Is there some particular quality about the colored man which makes him supreme in the prize-ring; or, denied as he is from supremacy in other realms, is it simply that freedom in the ring spurs him to an ascendancy he cannot attain elsewhere? Mr. Johansson, being the champion, white, and possessing a snorter of a right hand, might dissent from any such deduction but it is an interesting speculation nevertheless.

Reports from Ottawa

WHEN the banks in eastern Canada started to discount American coins a CCF member of Parliament asked Finance Minister Fleming if they had first consulted the Department of Finance.

No, Fleming replied. Well, pursued Liberal Paul Martin, if they had, what would Fleming's attitude have been?

"Constructive," Fleming answered. Other MPs laughed; it was a witty retort. But when you think it over, you might conclude that Fleming was not being intentionally funny. If his advice would have been constructive, then perhaps he thinks the banks' action was not constructive. Let's see what there is to support this interpretation.

U.S. coins had circulated in Canada so long that Canadians were conditioned to accept them as readily as Canadian coins. Even the banks did: U.S. coins that came in through bank wickets went out the same way.

This unofficial dual coinage system had advantages. The U.S. Mint performed an unpaid service for Canada. We avoided much inconvenience, embarrassment and annoyance to ourselves and to the millions of Americans who visit Canada each year. And automatic vending machines, which cannot tell F.D.R.'s profile on a dime from that of the Queen, became part of our way of life.

The bank's action has sacrificed these advantages, and has imposed an unfair financial hardship on those who operate vending machines. For what reason?

The banks report that eastern Canada was recently flooded with U.S. coins. They speculate that persons were importing substantial quantities of U.S. silver to make a profit of about 5 per cent by exchanging it at par for Canadian money. News stories quote unnamed bankers as saying that this situation "forced" the banks to take the action they did.

This piece of being "forced" rings about as true to my ear as a lead two-bit piece. From what Fleming said, the government certainly didn't force them. The public didn't—it was just as willing as ever to accept U.S. coins at par. And it was not a case of self-protection, because the profits of the 5 per cent boys were not coming out of the banks' profits.

What likely happened, I think, is that the 5 per cent boys outsmarted themselves.

First, they annoyed the bankers by invading a field of bank activity, and making money the banks had never bothered to make. These people were "immoral," the head of the foreign exchange department of an Ottawa bank told me. They were working "a something-for-nothing racket."

Second, their silver imports increased the volume of U.S. coins in circulation in this country to a point where it became worth the banks' while to discount it.

The banks set the coin discount rate 2½ per cent higher than the discount rate on U.S. currency. This 2½ per cent is supposed to "cover" the cost of separating U.S. coins and shipping them back to the States. But banks don't work for nothing, and so part of the 2½ per cent must be assumed to be bank profit. Moreover, this profit is on top of the banks' currency exchange rate profit—which they now make on U.S. coin as well as on U.S. paper.

The banks discounted coin in spite of recent increases in the value of the U.S. dollar which were making the coin racket less attractive. And they discounted in spite of the knowledge that the harvest would be short-lived: the discount would kill the racket.

So maybe Fleming was not trying to be witty when he said his attitude would have been constructive, for the facts of the situation make it difficult to see the action of the banks as constructive.

The Packsack

QORC Centenary

By GREGORY CLARK

IN referring to the impending celebrations of the hundredth anniversary of the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada in Calgary, Toronto, Canterbury and Germany, the Packsack mentioned the regimental drum that is being hung in Canterbury Cathedral with the Queen's Own Rifles' battle honors.

Readers have written to ask about the drum. A rifles regiment does not carry colors, as do infantry regiments. The function of a rifles regiment was to work ahead of the main body of troops, and to carry colors would violate the riflesman's essential security of movement. The rifles regiment was uniformed in rifle green, not scarlet, as were the traditional British infantry. They wore black horn buttons, not brass. The original bayonets of riflesmen was not a bayonet at all, but a small sword for infighting; and to this day, rifles regiments use the command "Fix swords!" instead of the infantry "Fix bayonets!"

They do not slope arms, but use the trail and the shoulder arms. They do not refer to the bugle, but to the horn. Officers' mess call is the "dinner horn." The loud word "attention" or "shun" is never used. The name of the unit or sub-unit is all that is necessary to bring the men to the alert. The rifles regiment marches at 140 paces to the minute, unless hampered by the company of infantry to the infantry's 120. And their battle honors are painted on the shell of their regimental drum, which, with the horn, is what is used to call the riflesmen home.

It is such a drum that will hang in Canterbury Cathedral to commemorate a century of Canadians at arms.

Up in the Air

AT first glance, the annual report of the Mohawk Airlines in the United States appears to indicate that one of its 21 aircraft taking off during 1959 is still "up in the air."

The report lists 55,990 take-offs during the year and only 55,989 landings.

Washington Angle

Stereotyped
Ritual of Diplomacy

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE mating ritual of the gooney birds could be no more prescribed and inevitable in its end than the periodic meetings of the Western foreign ministers.

In the first phase the tocsin of alarm is sounded. Germany and Britain are at odds. A deal will be made over Berlin. A cloud of distrust darkens the scene.

Then the ministers come together to be photographed amiably smiling at one another. Next they retire into the fastness of the conference chamber from which come bulletins describing the fruitful progress of the discussions.

Finally, as the conference nears its end, the love call is triumphant. The chorus of harmony sounds like the brasses in a Wagnerian opera. This process has just been gone through here in Washington and it will be repeated early next month at a session in Istanbul and for a third time in Paris just prior to the opening of the summit.

The reason this whole business has such an empty and pro forma sound is evident enough. The ministers have no power to agree on any positive new steps that may be taken in the exchange with the Soviet Union. They can agree only on what their respective governments will NOT do, and that is bound to seem sterile and self-defeating.

What is also becoming rather painfully evident is that the present is for the West a difficult transition phase, with the chief hope that it will pass without a major challenge. The hard, the truly terrifying decisions will have to be taken by others at a later time.

This may explain why the rumor is circulating that President Eisenhower in Paris will propose to Premier Khrushchev a second summit conference to be held in December and to which he will bring the president-elect chosen in November.

While presidents before him have not hesitated to enter into executive agreements committing their successors, Mr. Eisenhower has said that a moratorium on small nuclear explosions could not be assured beyond the expiration of his term in the White House. This casts some doubt on whether an agreement on a nuclear test ban—believed by many to be the only real possibility for the summit—can be reached.

But the area of uncertainty is not limited to this country. West Germany has an election in 1961 and top officials here are convinced that every move Chancellor Adenauer makes and every word he speaks is with the goal of his return as chancellor for another four-year term. Increasingly, he lives in lofty isolation, consulting no one on the major decisions.

As a consequence, his foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, tends to be a nervous messenger concerned above all to understand correctly the signals from the venerable chancellor.

A new and complicating element is the rise of Mayor Willy Brandt of Berlin as a formidable challenger for the opposition party, the Social Democrats.

More than ever Adenauer must prove that he will not budge an inch on German reunification and Berlin. Yet after the ministers' conference von Brentano indicated that he had agreed with the other Western powers to the possible negotiation at the summit of an interim settlement on Berlin.

To get such a settlement, he also indicated, it might be necessary eventually to make the concessions which Secretary of State Christian Herter listed last July 28 at the close of the Geneva meeting with the Soviets.

This was taken to mean that Chancellor Adenauer had heeded the word of President Eisenhower during their meeting in Washington last month. The president is reported to have told the chancellor that while there could be no question of the protection of the liberties of the West Berliners it was impossible simply to go on saying no to all proposed changes.

This is ground that has been wearily gone over time and time again. It will all be covered once more at Istanbul and then in Paris. How relevant it will be to the confrontation with Premier Khrushchev at the summit only Khrushchev himself can say. The long hours of preparation may go for nothing in the rarefied atmosphere of the summit.

Suffering Cats

The editorial in the Colonist of April 17 entitled "The Care of Pets" is to the point with one exception. We agree it will be a most progressive move in humane education to have a Junior SPCA and hope it will be well supported.

The education of the young in the care, understanding and treatment of animals is a vital part of their learning and also assures that our future adults will have the correct knowledge and love of animals to pass on to their children.

However, we do feel that the writer is not quite aware of the great and urgent need for the dissemination of knowledge on cat care in all its phases. The statement that "cats being rugged individualists, usually can take good care of themselves" is far from fact. Cats and kittens are delicate and sensitive creatures. They need a well-balanced diet, shelter, warmth, affection, proper grooming and attention to the ears and general health. They are the cleanest of animals, keep themselves immaculate and need little training. They are most responsive to affection and kindness, but if they do not receive it, they appear reserved and dignified and it is this independence that some people find hard to understand.

All animal welfare societies will agree that cats and kittens are the greatest sufferers through ignorance, neglect and abandonment. Cats far outnumber other domestic animals and their suffering is in proportion.

Held to Ransom

Verily when the gods would destroy they first make mad. The selfish grab of an 11 per cent increase by our already highly paid firemen and policemen reveals an utter lack of realization of the facts of life in Canada today.

The number of unemployed is frightening. How much longer can the great majority now on pensions, low fixed salaries and those currently unemployed, continue to pay? Our chickens are coming home to roost both in Canada and the United States, where increasingly manufacturers are moving their plants to other countries so that they may have a chance at foreign market sales—all lost employment to our people.

On April 1 carpenters' rates rose 12 cents an hour to $2.84 per hour. Plasterers' rates rose 25 cents per hour. There are more than 50 per cent of the carpenters unemployed in Vancouver and Nanaimo. However, let us be of good heart. Having gouged out their annual tribute, no doubt plans are already being laid for next year's ransom.

As the cost of living has risen only a fraction of 1 per cent since last year, how can the conciliation board justify its 11 per cent award. I can hardly wait to see that feat of magic.

City Dairy, Banks Insist On U.S. Coin Discount

It's getting so a man can't slip through those U.S. coins to retailers and banks anymore.

At least one local dairy is now clamping down on U.S. money paid to its delivery men by customers. Banks are paying a lot more attention to U.S. coins slipped through in rolls of Canadian coins.

Palm Dairies Ltd., 930 North Park, last week sent notices to all its customers that the discount will be made on U.S. money. Notices were sent because most delivery men seldom see their customers in person, said a spokesman for the firm.

Victoria stores have been charging discount for some time.

Van Aggelen To Direct Chest Drive

Bernard Van Aggelen was picked yesterday to head the Greater Victoria Community Chest fund drive in October. A spokesman said the campaign goal probably will be in the neighborhood of $300,000.

Vice-chairman of the drive will be Alex McBain. If the trend of the past two years is followed, a volunteer staff of 3,700 will be assembled to call on upwards of 33,000 donors.

Actual objective of the drive will be set next week following a meeting with member agencies' representatives who will be asked to "hold the line" for 1960.

Timber Trade Looks Better

GENEVA (AP) — Wood-producing countries can look to the future with "cautious optimism" following a year to exceptionally favorable developments in the European timber markets, United Nations economists reported yesterday.

There was a "strong recovery" in the volume of softwood trade during the last year, they said, and indications were that general timber consumption would remain at a high level also this year.

White-vs.-White Struggle Harsher Than Racial War

Hard-Core Afrikaners Cling to Minority Rule

By KEN MacTIGGART

JOHANNESBURG (TNS)—Underlying the black-white crisis which has shaken South Africa with violence is a far more bitter struggle—the white-versus-white war.

It is the perpetuation of this never-ending battle that has made life for the blacks much worse and piled woe upon woe for them.

South Africa's rampant, vigorous and determined nationalism is reflected in the peculiar provincialism of Afrikanerdom. No longer Dutch, no longer Huguenot, no longer English, the race that has arisen out of determination to avenge the defeat of the Treaty of Vereeniging is embarked on what looks like a suicidal course to maintain its pre-eminence.

Not all Afrikaans-speaking

History Interrupted

The natives of South Africa have traditionally favored English rule. In 1834 the British freed the slaves in the Cape Province, and two years later the great trek of the Boers to the hinterland began, to establish a new colony free of such terrible policies.

To Afrikaners, history began with that great trek. Since then it has been horribly interrupted by such things as British intervention in the Transvaal in 1876 with their anti-slavery ideas, the South African war, and finally the creation of the Union as part of the British Empire in 1910. But Boer determination finally overcame most British influences. By packing the Supreme Court and increasing Senate memberships, sufficient strength was amassed to legally remove all rights from colored and native citizens.

Elimination of black rights removed an historically pro-English element of any political effect.

As a result, any thought of altering the political balance by giving natives or coloreds any political recognition is regarded solely as a threat to Afrikaner supremacy. And Afrikaner religion conveniently supports this policy, creating special moral endorsement for apartheid.

And that cannot help but be followed by easily anticipated results—aid in leadership; agitation to revolt, and even smuggled arms.

Terror has become the weapon of the handful of men who rule the country—the terror of arrest without warrant—of imprisonment without trial—or loss of livelihood.

Unless the Western world acts, and acts quickly, there is little hope for future Western security in any of Africa.

The rest of Black Africa—that is, Africa south of the Sahara—recognizes only fundamental things, and one of these is that a white man's government in South Africa is representative of the white man's world.

Assassin's Daughter In Verwoerd's Hospital

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters)—Susan Pratt, 22, suffering shock and minor injuries from a car accident, was taken to Pretoria General Hospital, where Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd is recovering from two bullet wounds in his face.

The girl's father, David Pratt, is being held for the assassination attempt.

Work Boycott Broken

Another 550 Seized In African Raids

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters)—Police and soldiers arrested another 550 persons in raids on African townships Wednesday, breaking the back of a stay-away from work campaign.

"We must admit the campaign has been a flop," said a former official of the banned African National Congress.

With most workers ignoring the work boycott call, police waited until they left for their jobs and then raided the townships in armored cars looking for "undesirables."

RECOVERING

Meanwhile, it was announced Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd is recovering from the attempt to assassinate him April 9 and will resume his duties within a week.

Wednesday's arrests, in townships outside Capetown, Port Elizabeth and East London, brought to at least 1,200 the number rounded up in raids since Monday.

All main centres in South Africa reported Wednesday that African workers were back at their jobs.

Fulton Outlines Addiction Drive

VANCOUVER (CP) — A scheme of federal-provincial co-operation to reduce the narcotics available for illegal use, prevent creation of new addicts and reduce demand for drugs by existing addicts was advocated Wednesday by Justice Minister Fulton as a means of solving the problem of criminal drug addiction.

He said he hoped federal-provincial discussions would soon be held toward this end.

Mr. Fulton said Canada has 3,000 criminal addicts at present. More than half of these are in British Columbia, he said, with the concentration in the city of Vancouver, where one in every 390 residents is a criminal addict.

THREE-PRONGED

Mr. Fulton proposed this three-pronged attack:

1. Reduce drugs available for illegal use through enforcement of existing laws;
2. Prevent creation of new addicts, largely a question of segregating addicts from non-addicts;
3. Reduce and, if possible, eliminate demand for drugs by existing addicts, a question of treatment and training of addicts.

He said efforts being made to relieve overcrowding in federal penitentiaries would make possible soon the segregation of addicts from non-addicts.

However, direct approaches could do only so much. Preventive measures, especially in connection with juvenile delinquency, were essential—and this was a matter of provincial jurisdiction.

Equal Education For All Children 'Not Democracy'

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sir John Wolfenden, vice-chancellor of Reading University in Britain, told the Manitoba Educational Association Wednesday that giving all children the same kind of education is not necessarily democratic.

He told his audience democracy demands an "elite." He said "this is a dangerous word because it is thought to imply privilege, social status or wealth. But democracy, of all forms of government, demands leaders.

"Our best hope as democrats is to give the best possible opportunities to all children—the able as well as others, from all social backgrounds," said Sir John.

Gifted Pupils 'Resented'

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. S. R. Laycock, former dean of education at the University of Saskatchewan, told the Ontario Educational Association that the occasional teacher resents the gifted child, regards him as a nuisance and mistakes his curiosity for impertinence.

"Lack of interest in his development by the teacher can greatly discourage the gifted child," he said.

Against Young

Literature Meddlers 'Criminals'

WINNIPEG (CP)—Intellectual crimes are committed against young readers in the name of education by inflated and meddlesome minds, Dr. B. C. Diltz, dean of the Ontario College of Education, said Wednesday.

Dr. Diltz told the convention of the Manitoba Education Association "books like Tom Sawyer and Treasure Island are being 'written down to a grade' intelligence by psychologists and sociologists who know nothing about literature."

He said almost everything in print today goes by the name of literature. "If you wish to find out why one beverage or detergent is better than another you will be referred to the literature of the subject."

He said teachers should teach for depth of insight rather than for breadth of information, for nourishing tastes rather than disclosing talents.

Schools Cut 'Frill' Study

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Department of Education is sending directives to school boards ordering a new course which will put more emphasis on physical education and less on how to behave on dates, manners, social responsibility and dieting.

A Vancouver school board official said the effect of the change will be to put responsibility for teaching children these topics back in the hands of the parents.

Crimson Lint All Gaglardi Got in Ottawa

Back from seeking highway assistance in Ottawa, Highways Minister J. A. Gaglardi is ready to admit that all he got was some crimson lint on his shoes from the red carpet welcome.

And he allowed that Ottawa's refusal to grant financial aid to highway construction in B.C. might have political implications.

GAVE NOTHING

"They treated me royally but they gave me nothing," the usually ebullient minister admitted ruefully.

"I had 15 minutes with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and an hour with the public works minister—I got the red carpet treatment but the sum total of the discussions was a nice time.

FIRST THINGS

"We had no discussion on new plans because they want the Trans-Canada Highway completed before they consider anything else."

The highways minister and Premier Bennett, under fire from the federal government for delay on the B.C. section of the Trans-Canada, want the federal government to share the cost of other main traffic arteries as well.

Mr. Gaglardi said that before he would put the label of "political reasons" on Ottawa's rejection of his recent submission for such additional aid he would submit the proposal in writing and await an answer.

Dr. Barbara's 109 Miles Stun Marathon Rivals

LOVELOCK, Nev. (AP)—A 56-year-old British woman doctor pooh-poohed charge by two younger male rivals Wednesday in a cross-country walking contest that she must have ridden part way to cover 109 miles in 17 hours Tuesday.

Forty miles behind the hiking British sergeants, Dr. Barbara Moore snorted:

"I'll beat those sergeants despite their helper (another sergeant who drives along with a supply trailer.)

"I've outwalked every British soldier so far." (Later a desert windstorm slowed her down again.)

Navy Officers Meet Sunday

Quarterly general meeting of the Chief and Petty Officers' Association will be held at 10.30 a.m. Sunday in the CPO's mess at HMCS Naden.

Sgt. Patrick Moloney, 34, and Sgt. Merwyn Evans, 33, looked back over their shoulders at Mill City, 40 miles from Lovelock, and said there was something fishy about the 109-mile feat.

Their trailer-driver, Sgt. Roy Rogers, 39, said worriedly:

"She's going to make us a laughing stock when she passes us."

"What else could they say?" vegetarian Dr. Moore asked on hearing charges that she was hitch-hiking.

"I'm catching up with them and they've got to say something. It wasn't impossible for an experienced walker."

Motorists who passed Dr. Moore saw her running the last part of Tuesday's long leg.

"If anyone had given her a ride, it would have gotten around this small town fast," Lovelock reporters said.

All three hikers have covered more than 325 miles in bids to break the 73-day walking record across the U.S.

Moving Car Not 'Public'

VANCOUVER (CP)—A magistrate decided Wednesday that a car moving along a highway is not a public place. He dismissed charges against Mrs. Leona E. Pavish, accused of drinking in a public place—a moving car.

North Vancouver Magistrate A. D. Pool said while he did not believe the woman's testimony that she and her husband were not drinking in the car, the vehicle could not be regarded as a public place.

Drug Men Duck Duty

Kefauver Lashes Industry

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver accused the drug industry Wednesday of ducking its responsibility by failing to clean up alleged advertising and promotion abuses.

However, Dr. Austin Smith, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, replied that his organization was not "a police department."

ANGRY CLASH

The angry clash came during hearings by the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee into alleged high prices and profits in the drug industry.

Kefauver demanded to know whether the association's code of ethics was just "window dressing meaning nothing."

ONLY TWO

Smith strongly insisted this was not true, but conceded only two charges of violations had been brought to the association's attention in two years.

Action was postponed, he said, because the cases also were pending before the Federal Trade Commission.

MANY CASES

Kefauver said testimony from "reputable" doctors showed evidence of numerous cases of false or misleading drug advertising aimed at physicians. There had been "blatant" overstatements of benefits from new drugs and vast understatements as to their possible adverse side effects.

Smith said the complaints had not been submitted to his association, nor had any doctors protested.

No Hogging By Boats

A bylaw to prevent hogging of Inner Harbor float space will be suggested to city council harbor committee this week.

City Engineer James Garnett told members of public works committee yesterday he will propose that the bylaw prohibit use of the float by boats more than 40 feet long, require users to register at the publicly bureau office within an hour after tying up, and set a limit of 48 hours' use. Exceptions would be subject to council decision.

'Mop-Up' Next Varsity Goal 'Close'

Victoria University building fund is expected to close its current campaign next month "pretty close" to the $2,000,000 mark, but officials still hope to raise the remaining $500,000 to achieve the goal over the next five years.

Latest total of $1,384,784 was announced yesterday by campaign chairman R. B. Wilson.

PERMANENT

He also said a permanent body patterned after the UBC development fund committee would be set up to handle pledges and receive further donations and bequests.

Chairmen of most divisions are getting canvassers to finish the job and final drive total should be announced in two weeks.

SUBSTANTIAL

Big residential "mop-up" canvass Monday and Tuesday under direction of Mrs. Daryl Elford is expected to bring in a substantial amount.

Volunteer canvassers are still needed—particularly in the Fairfield district. Those who wish to give an hour of their time on either night may call Mrs. Elford at EV 3-5079 or fund headquarters at EV 5-3455.

School Bibles Stay

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Teachers' Federation refused Wednesday—as it has in the past—to recommend replacing the King James version of the Bible in B.C. classrooms with the revised standard version.

Decision came at the federation's convention after delegates Sam Toren of Burnaby said the "King James version is meaningless, and therefore gives more religious freedom and we may as well keep it."

Added Doug Williams of Vancouver: "The King James at least has the advantage of allowing children to hear good English spoken at least once a day. The revised version compounds all the vices of the King James."

Guzwell Returns With New Bride

John Guzwell, who last fall completed a 33,000-mile trip around the world in a 20-foot boat, has returned to Victoria with a bride after taking a trip to Australia.

He said last September, when he returned from the four-year voyage, that he wanted to go to Australia to be married.

Friends last night refused to say where the couple are hiding, but they said the newlyweds will make an appearance here in "three or four days," and that his wife is not the same girl he was interested in last fall.

Archbishop Of York Hits Racism

SALISBURY (Reuters) — The Archbishop of York, Dr. Michael Ramsey, arrived here today for a six-week tour of African territories.

At a press conference, the archbishop said South Africa's apartheid policy was "downright un-Christian and contrary to the Christian view of man."

Feeling in Britain was that the policy was something like that aroused "by Nazism in Germany."

"It is not just the view of extreme and violent men, but deep and widespread," he said.

NEW WESTMINSTER — RCMP Const. Sid Scott, 34, father of two, died of a rare fungus infection which doctors had fought with a new drug flown from Montreal.

Saanich municipal officers are investigating ways of preparing a new sewer construction bylaw for the Gordon Head area to overcome a change of policy in the granting of NHA loans.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation announced recently it will revert to its former policy of not granting loans for construction of houses on non-served lots after the end of this year.

"So far as I am concerned, we should put the bylaw to the residents of Gordon Head again in December," Reeve George Chatterton said last night.

Residents of the area defeated the bylaw in July. Some contended it would be cheaper to connect with Oak Bay's sewage system and others felt the method of levying the costs of the scheme against landowners was unfair.

"We investigated the possibility of joining with Oak Bay and we now have written evidence that it is not feasible," Mr. Chatterton said.

He said the engineering details of the scheme will likely not be altered, but some different scheme of levying costs might be incorporated. Investigations are being carried out now to find if there is some more-acceptable system.

The reeve added there is no possibility of doing the work during the winter to take advantage of grants from the federal and provincial governments.

chairman of the special committee. Other members are C. A. Lanthier, J. A. Bond, Mrs. G. R. Barlow, W. J. Koellmeier and G. E. Mortimore.

The algae problem has been getting progressively worse over the past two years, and last year forced curtailment of swimming in the lake. Bacteriological tests are being conducted at the lake and results will be presented at the next meeting.

The committee will seek causes of algae growth and try to induce the government to clear the outlet of the lake, which is clogged. There is also the possibility that the government will be asked to launch a full-scale investigation.

Langford potato farmer, A. R. Howell, accused by some residents of polluting the lake with drainage water from his farm, told the meeting he had no animal fertilizer, using only chemical nitrates.

He has been pumping waste water into the lake from April to June for the past four years. At its peak, the drainage reaches 100,000 gallons an hour.

Two Victoria members of the Association of Professional Engineers of B.C. will be awarded gold medallions and life membership certificates at a meeting at 6:30 p.m. today in Holyrood House.

They are H. F. Bourne, 2161 Haultain, and C. G. J. Luck of Saanichton.

Federal, Provincial

Civil Servants Seek Union Of All Groups

Victoria District Council of the Civil Service Federation of Canada is attempting to unite federal and provincial civil servants throughout Canada in a united campaign to gain bargaining rights.

A brief urging that all civil servants on the two levels of government unite has been sent to all district councils of the federation.

NO MOVE YET

No approach has been made to provincial civil servants yet.

Gordon Campbell, president of the Victoria District Council, said last night only the provincial civil servants of Saskatchewan at present have bargaining rights.

"We do not contemplate strike action. We will not take slowdown action," he said.

'DIVINE RIGHT'

Refusal of governments to grant bargaining rights to civil servants is a "ghost" of the divine right of kings, Mr. Campbell claimed.

"Granting of bargaining rights is the only way to guarantee the political impartiality of the civil service," he said. "The civil service must not be involved in political action of any sort."

"We feel this is one of the times to stand together and make a real case of our claim," he said. "There are 150,000 or more federal civil servants and 5,000 to 10,000 provincial civil servants in each province."

Mr. Campbell said the Victoria District Council hopes the national headquarters of the association will give its support. "We hope they will see the advantage of it," he added.

He said some organization similar to England's "Whitley Councils"—composed of representatives of the government and civil servants—is necessary in Canada.

GOING TO

"If the British people have this system, we should have it and we are going to have it."

Mr. Campbell said the attitude of the Canadian Labor Congress is shown by the theme of a conference the CLC plans to hold in Fredericton, N.B., next month.

"The theme of the conference is 'Collective Bargaining in the Public Service—a Look at the Inevitable,'" he said.

Last Call for Seeds

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

This is the last call for Nemesis seeds and, if you haven't written yet for your free packet of these jewel-like flowers, you'd better get the letter away today. If you don't like writing letters, you can use the coupon at the foot of this column instead. I expect we have enough of the seeds to take care of any Johnny-come-latelies who may come straggling in during the next couple of weeks, but this is the last time I will be reminding you of this free seed offer.

This is the eighth year I have distributed free Nemesis seeds to my gardening friends and, even after all this time, I still receive the odd request for seeds without any stamped and self-addressed envelope enclosed. My neighbor Ernie thinks I am nuts to pay any attention to these letters, but I cannot believe anybody would deliberately try to chisel me for a stamp on top of free seeds.

I am convinced this is due to a moment of thoughtlessness and as I don't like to think of these forgetful gardeners sitting waiting and wondering why their seeds don't come, I buy myself a hatful of stamps and send out the seeds regardless. Do try to remember, though, that you are expected to supply the stamped and self-addressed envelope to carry your free seeds back to you.

Let's review briefly now the steps we have taken to grow our Nemesis. A few tub-like containers were selected, either of plastic or waxed cardboard, and a few holes punched in the bottom for drainage. These holes were covered with a filter of toilet tissue or paper handkerchief, and the pot filled with a sterilized soil mixture.

Seeds were spaced out on the soil surface an inch apart each way and a covering layer of peat moss or vermiculite added to a depth of 1/4-inch. The container was then covered, either with its own lid or with a square of plastic film held in place with an elastic band, and the pot stored in a warm place where the temperature remains reasonably constant between 70 and 75 degrees.

It is most important to make a daily examination of the containers and as soon as the first seedling emerges, that pot must be uncovered and exposed to every bit of sunlight possible. Seedlings elongate themselves at a fantastic rate in the warm, moist atmosphere in the covered pot and, if you don't catch them promptly, they will be "drawn" and useless. I ruined a whole test batch of New Zealand cucumber seeds this way the other day—they fooled me by coming up in three days when I wasn't expecting them for six or seven.

Northern Rhodesia, native home of the Nemesis, is noted for its long hours of sunshine, and most plants from this area are real sun-worshippers. I have been shifting mine around from window to window to catch more sun and have even been setting the tray of pots outdoors on calm sunny days. Evenings, they come indoors and sit on my desk under my reading lamp until bedtime.

The Nemesis seedlings may be transplanted outdoors to their flowing location when they reach 2 1/2 to three inches stature. They prefer a rather sandy soil with a bit of peat moss worked in and a position in full sun. Pour a little water around the roots as you plant and it is a good idea to fortify the water with a little vitamin B1 or Transplantone. Cover each of the newly set-out plants with a flower pot, jam jar, tin can or some such protection for their first 24 hours, just until their roots take hold.

The Viewing World

By John Crosby

Hardly Any Reverence at All

"We are all voluntary exiles," said Janet Flanner in her soft, slightly mocking voice. "We lived grandly on little money." That was the tenor, the vein, the spirit of Twentieth Century's grand show "Paris in the Twenties"—neither too serious, nor too flippant, nor too worshipping, nor too disapproving—but just and right-ly so.

Miss Flanner, The New Yorker's "Genet," who has been writing that magazine's Paris letter since (it sometimes seems) the dawn of history, spoke with warmth and intimacy and hardly any reverence at all of the great names of the era—Ernest Hemingway, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Pablo Picasso, James Joyce, and the rest.

One of the anecdotes, for example, opened with the words: "Joyce and Hemingway and I dined with one of Mr. Hemingway's wives—the second one, I believe..." She related how the two men picked up a French girl who spoke not a word of English and who alternated from one pair of arms to the other—dancing, that is. That was the sort of thing that happened, she said, and they were "fairly innocent and quite entertaining."

Miss Flanner, who spoke with overpowering authority, gave us some arresting and highly unusual insights into the great names.

Of Gertrude Stein: "She talked with the greatest sense, coherency, and precision of anyone I know. This was remarkable considering the way she wrote."

Miss Flanner implied that she didn't dig the writing of Miss Stein but that it had had some influence on the style of Ernest Hemingway, particularly in the Hemingway repetitions.

Of Picasso, she recalled that he always drank bottled water, was invariably with beautiful girls—usually several at once—and always ate at the same restaurant and walked home by the same route.

The pictures matched the prose—being charming, informal, almost ad lib, and reminding me in technique of my own home movies. They showed Benet Cerf clowning with girls at Antibes, Beatrice Lillie and Elsa Maxwell and Marilyn Miller doing amateur theatricals for friends, Fitzgerald looking terribly handsome and terribly drunk ("He was not always as entertaining as he might be") tourists making idiots of themselves, the lights, the gaiety, the architectural splendor of Paris. None of it would have meant much without Miss Flanner's gentle and fresh interpretation.

"Twentieth Century" is a marvelous program week in and week out.

Wayne and Shuster had a great sketch, full of plot and funny lines, about how Madison Avenue would handle a campaign to popularize the income tax on the Ed Sullivan show last Sunday. Tony Randall had another as an expectant father on the Andy Williams special.

I was amazed (but delighted) to find Wayne and Shuster making wisecracks about the rarity of truth in advertising and getting away with it.

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

This is the year of surprises. Just two days ago I told you about young Mr. Keniston, calling loudly for "ordinary human courage" and "a new Utopia." Now here is another young intellectual, Mr. Norman Podhoretz, going Mr. Keniston one better and calling for a new prophet and a new religion.

Mr. Podhoretz is the current boy wonder of literature and criticism. Like Mr. Keniston he is about 30 years old.

He has just been made editor of Commentary magazine, new religion.

No Rational Way

The issue contains an article by Prof. Sidney Hook of New York University on "Modern Knowledge and the Idea of God." Dr. Hook is a dyed-in-the-wool agnostic but interestingly enough, he calls himself a "skeptical God-seeker" and says he's still willing to be converted—only so far he hasn't found a rational way to accept faith in God.

He discusses the various ideas of God but winds up with HOLLYWOOD — Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher offered the Arthur Murrays $250,000 for their palatial place in Rye, N.Y. But the billionaire dance bosses turned them down. Wonder what happened to the other place Eddie told me they had bought in New York?

The Hollywood cameramen do not like the new "beehive" hair-styles. Says Nat Dalling, veteran lensman, "they look so sloppy, they hide the ears, and the lovely neckline. And on some girls they look like mops."

Anna Maria Alberghetti is leaving next month for London and thence to Italy, there to collect the $100,000 left to her family by her late grandmother.

Montego Bay has Robert Stack, star of "The Untouchables," and wife Rosemary vacationing in the sun. "First time she has been away from the children," writes Bob.

Diana Dors will have a problem collecting the $275,000 she says the defunct RKO Studio owes her. Diana is coming to Hollywood to get it.

Sammy Davis Jr. is preparing his best stuff for the May 15 command performance in London.

Jane Wyman has been rediscovered by her ex-husband, Freddie Karger.

Not apropos, but there is always a tremendous shortage of escorts in Hollywood, and you'd be surprised at the number of glamor stars who can depend only on their press agents to take them to parties and premieres.

The King of Greece is helping publicize Carl Foreman's "Guns of Navarone." He has flown to the island of Rhodes to see how Gregory Peck, David Niven and Anthony Quinn are coming along, and the army is supplying all the weapons and men needed for the movie.

Israel is doing the same for "Exodus." I'll be visiting both companies in the near future. I'm excited at the prospect of seeing Jerusalem for the first time. I also have a date with Cary Grant in London. Wouldn't you like to be a lady columnist?

Debra Paget, already separated from new hubby Budd Boetticher, was saying "I'm flying to Mexico for two months, to play the wicked woman in 'The Most Dangerous Man Alive.' Budd will be there at the same time to prepare the Carlos Arruza story—the inside story of the bullfighting game."

Phil Silvers' two small daughters are recovering from measles.

Ralph Bellamy, staying with friends in Bel Air, made a trip to the Racquet Club in Palm Springs which he started with matinee idol Charlie Farrell 25 years ago. Ralph sold his interest. The club made a millionaire of Farrell.

Hume Cronyn, Jean Hagen and Louise Howe join Bellamy and Greer Garson in the movie version of Dore Schary's "Sunrise at Campobello."

Timidity Ending

To him, the very fact that Dr. Hook is writing such a piece now is a sign of a new spirit. The timidity, apathy and sickness of soul that has dominated the 50s is on its way out.

What next? Will a new religion gradually take over the world? "My own guess is," writes Mr. Podhoretz, "that this is very likely to happen... It seems obvious that the stage is beautifully set for a new prophet... His revelation would provide a new way of understanding the world, new categories, even a new logic."

And this new revelation would somehow be acceptable to rationalists like Prof. Hook and still be based on a truly religious idea of God.

There isn't anything more definite in Mr. Podhoretz's editorial that I could quote to you. But what he said is certainly something to think about.

Grayling Gaining New Respect

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fishermen will have all the time they want this year to try for grayling, a game fish of rising renown, in northern Manitoba waters.

The Manitoba government has proclaimed a season running from June 15 to October 31, 1960, which more than covers the best months for grayling during the short northern summer and fall.

Although the haunts of the grayling are becoming better known, most still are tough to reach. Only a few can be reached by land, but fishermen who have penetrated the north by plane have come back with cheers for the sport that the fish provide.

TEST OF SKILL

One outdoor writer put it this way: "He's the most avid biter of them all when he's in the mood and the water is right; but he's canny and choosy and he'll test the mettle of the deffest fly rod addict."

"He's a great aerialist, too, when he feels the hook. He's largely a surface insect feeder in the short, far northern summers, a fact endearing him to the dry-fly purist."

The northern third of Manitoba is said to boast some of the finest grayling waters, with the fish thriving in clear, cold streams and lakes. The southern limit of their territory appears to be the watershed of the Churchill River, which runs into Hudson Bay, 610 miles north of Winnipeg. But the grayling—a streamlined fish, distant relative of the salmon—has also been reported plentiful in lakes west of Churchill, including Reindeer Lake on the Manitoba-Saskatchewan boundary.

Waters named as grayling haunts include: South Knife Lake, the South and North Knife Rivers, the Seal River, the Cochrane River which flows into Reindeer Lake from the north and Nuelin Lake on the northern Manitoba boundary.

NOT VERY BIG

The world record grayling, taken by angling, was a four-pounder 19 inches long caught in the Clearwater River in Saskatchewan in 1955. Manitoba tourist officials say that "If you hook a two-pounder, you've got a real dandy."

August, September and, freeze-up permitting, early October are considered the best months for grayling angling, with evening the best time of day to seek them. Although sportsmen have most often caught the voracious insect-eaters on dry flies, they have taken other lures—including rubber frogs originally meant for bluegills far to the south in the United States.

Three flies that have been used are Black Gnat, Silver Doctor and Brown Hackle, with fishing experts reporting occasions when the fish would hit anything that vaguely resembled the fly hatch of the moment. Recommended hook size is No. 12.

The technical name of the grayling is thymallus signifer—the first part describing a taste resembling that of wild thyme and the second referring to the high sail-like dorsal fin that runs along most of the back.

With both regular train and airline service to Churchill, Bay port and making further tourist officials have recommended going to the Hudson Bay waters from there.

DRINK B.C. MILK EVERY DAY

Milk is our most nearly perfect food. Protein of high quality, calcium and riboflavin (vitamin B2) are all supplied by our fresh B.C. milk. Milk packs a wealth of nourishment into every glass . . . there's no waste . . . and the cost is low in proportion to food value. Serve B.C. milk to your family every day.

AN IMPORTANT B.C. INDUSTRY

The dairy farmers of British Columbia are independent business men striving to give you the finest dairy products at the lowest possible prices. Dairying contributes over $36,000,000 a year to our economy but the importance of the dairy farmers cannot be measured in dollars alone. Dairying is a most essential industry and our B.C. dairy products are among the best in the world.

BRITISH COLUMBIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
THE HONOURABLE NEWTON P. STEACY, MINISTER

FEEL BETTER
LOOK BETTER
SLEEP BETTER

Every meal we eat is better balanced nutritionally if it includes milk. Children need at the very least a pint of milk a day; adolescents a pint and a half; and adults a pint a day.

Creamed Soups

Heat milk and canned soup in separate pans. Before the milk boils, stir it into the hot soup. You'll get the smoothest, best-tasting soup ever.

Heating Milk

Milk scorches easily so if you can't keep an eye on it while it's heating, use a double boiler. Milk tastes better if it doesn't boil.

Serving B.C. Milk Puddings

It's the milk in puddings that makes them so good for you, and if you serve fresh, frozen or canned B.C. fruit as garnish to your pudding you'll have a dessert that's doubly good. Try vanilla milk pudding with B.C. peaches, chocolate pudding with B.C. pears, butterscotch with B.C. cherries and lemon with B.C. apricots.

Perfect Custard Every Time

Keep the oven at 300°F. Place the baking pan in a pan of hot water. Add a tablespoon of heavy cream for every cup of milk your recipe calls for. Your custard can't go wrong if you make it this way.

OUTDOORS with Alec Merriman

Buttle Lake is teeming with spawning cutthroat at the outlet of the lake as it enters Upper Campbell.

That is the report brought back after Easter weekend from George Gilbert of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association.

He said it broke his heart to see anglers by the shore limiting on the black spawners, but added that a fisheries biologist had assured him that taking the spawners would have no effect on the fish population in Buttle Lake.

George said there were nearly 60 campers at Buttle Lake over the weekend, but added, "you should have seen them flock out of there when it went below freezing."

An Easter holiday camping adventure at Goldstream Park got off to a bad start Monday for Graham Ziral, 12, who cut his finger with an axe and was rushed to hospital where five stitches were required. But he was soon back camping with his pals David Anderson, 11, and John Bumpus, 14, all of Margaret Jenkins School. They had the park to themselves Monday, but each day one of the parents planned to look in on the boys.

There will be two shoots in the Victoria area on Sunday. Annual trophy shoot of the Victoria Gun Club will be held at Albert Head grounds, starting at 11 a.m. Competition for trophies will be limited to club members, but there will be plenty of room for practice shooters and visitors and anyone interested is invited to attend at the Metchoin Road club grounds. Some 20 trophies will be up for competition in trap and skeet.

The Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association will have two traps in operation at its Goldstream club grounds Sunday afternoon.

Anyone interested will be welcomed to shoot and Bud Bond Monday night sent out an appeal for a work party of club members to be on hand at 8 a.m. Sunday morning to get the trap grounds ready.

Launching day at Royal Victoria Yacht Club will be Saturday and the yacht club was a hive of industry Easter weekend as members put last minute touches to their craft. The club class fleet of 22½-foot racing craft has been augmented by one more boat, Maverick, built of Tony Elliot. There will be 17 Cubs in the fleet this season.

Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association president Cliff Rate says the association which now has about 300 members has initiated a determined drive for a membership of 1,000.

There are about 6,000 hunting and fishing licence holders on the lower end of the Island and "we feel 20 per cent should join," he says. Membership is $3 a year and may be obtained at Ralph Wherry's gun shop on Pandora or by writing to the association at Post Office Box 33, Victoria.

At its meeting Monday night the fish and game association approved the setting up of a bounty system for members who kill cougars in club territory, which is south of the Kokilah and San Juan Rivers. Bounties will be paid by the association and will be $25 for a cat over one year of age and $10 for a younger cat. A maximum expenditure of $250 a year was set.

The meeting was told one cougar kills more deer in a year than all the hunters on Vancouver Island kill in a year.

The association also went on record as being against an antlerless deer season on lower Vancouver Island, except for the last two days of hunting season when does and fawns could be shot for sampling purposes and statistics.

Sunday Double Bill For District Soccer

Victoria and District Soccer League officials have again scheduled a Sunday double-header in order to catch up on postponed games.

City Driver Scores Twice

Ken Rumby of Victoria, driving a Triumph T.R. 3, was a double winner over the weekend at the opening meet at the Westwood track, near Vancouver.

A member of the Victoria Motor Sports Club, Rumby won the "E" class and was also first in the small displacement class of the LeMans race.

W. Pinckard of Qualicum Beach, also a member of the VMSC, who drove an Austin-Healey 3000, was another winner, placing first in "C" class.

T. D. Jones of Alberni and G. B. Sterne of Sidney finished third in "E" and "D" classes, respectively.

KEN EVANS

Mr. T. B. Lumsden, President of Olson Motors, announces appointment of Ken Evans as used car manager. Ken brings to Olson's a complete background of experience in all phases of the automobile field, and to all his customers and friends he extends a warm welcome to call in and say hello at Olson's Used Car Dept., 1036 Yates, featuring top selection of the Island's finest used cars.

LONDON (Special)—England and Scotland both stand condemned at the end of a controversial international football championship season that will be best remembered not for its outstanding achievements and brilliance but for its individual and team failures. The triple deadlock between England, Scotland and Wales achieved equally because of the failure of Ireland to win a point and the inability of the three other clubs to rise above mediocrity is a sad testimonial to British football's elite competition.

In some ways, it could be said that Ireland was hopelessly outclassed and the national sides of England, Scotland and Wales were so evenly matched that it was only justice that for the sixth time in nine years this annual tournament ended in stalemate.

But this would not by any means be a true description of the picture. Scotland's young and enthusiastic team started so well with a convincing 4-0 victory at Belfast and yet, with home draws against Wales and England, could do no better than a tie in each match.

England, at Wembley only one, struggled on that occasion to beat Ireland by the odd goal and Wales, also on home territory, could master the luckless Irish only by the margin of one goal. In the three other home internationals, no clear decision was reached.

NO CLASSIC

The highlight of the season, the long-awaited meeting between old rivals England and Scotland, proved the biggest disappointment for the almost 130,000 spectators at Hampden Park and the selectors of both national teams, who must choose strong sides for important post-season European tours.

England faces Yugoslavia at Wembley in May and then embarks on a tour of Spain and Hungary, two of the most powerful soccer-playing countries on the continent. Scotland will have no easy time in visits to Hungary, Austria and Turkey. On a club level, many English and Scottish teams have booked tours of European countries.

Britain's football name is judged by the result of every match, and the England and Scotland tours this summer have become particularly vital. Yes, the selectors must have felt dismayed by the Hampden match, which was the last big test for the national sides.

IT WAS PANNED

Scotland, which has had a long string of failures against England on home ground, was the more promising team in the 1-1 deadlock, described as dismal, dull, a disgrace and a calamity by disgruntled sports-writers. The spectators voiced their disapproval by boos, whistles, slow-clapping and foot-stamping.

notch lower in caliber, depending on the outcome of the Central Park meeting.

Regardless, the outlook for this season is better than it has been for some years.

Two new teams will play at Central Park. One entry is from Sooke while the other is from Duncan which, along with Mayo Lumber, gives Duncan two entries this season.

Teams at Central Park are: Farmer Construction, defending champions; Gorge Hotel, Halfway House, Mayo Lumber, Duncan and either an amalgamation of the Tudor House and Dickinson and Dunn teams or an entry from each.

The new Duncan team was a senior "B" club last season that played only exhibition games.

STUDENTS RETURN

Heading the list at Heywood Park is the remaining new entry, Chinese Students. Expected to add considerably more spectator appeal to that division. Students return to the Victoria setup after an absence of three years.

Other teams are MacNutt's Grocery, Maycock Optical, Navy and Morrison Motors, both from Central Park, and Pro Pats (formerly Six Mile House).

Scotland's admittedly weak defence had little trouble in handling a spiritless and unimaginative England attack and the home side can expect few greater opportunities of victory in the years to come. Many observers said it was England's worst international performance in the last 50 years.

Scotland has already named the 18 players who will make the post-season tour and the inclusion of the Tottenham trio will strengthen the Scots immeasurably. But England's selectors will probably revise the club for the Yugoslavia International and continue the experiment in Spain and Hungary, hoping each time to find the right combination and yet ready to accept defeat as a confirmation of their worst fears.

What started several months ago as a fresh and promising season for England has rapidly turned into a nightmare for the selectors. There can be few optimists left who feel that England's summer tour will blow a wind of change on her international prestige.

FRANCE AT TOP

France has rightly taken her place as international rugby champions beside England and on the strength of brilliant victories over Wales and Ireland has, in the space of two seasons, established herself as the team of the future. The deadlock is the first between two unbeaten sides since 1885-86.

England's revival has been the chief talking point this season but the French mastery of technique and the imaginative flair so typical of continental teams has left a deep impression. France has introduced new life into rugby and the annihilation of the Irish, who fielded a strong side, must have dispelled any doubts that France's rise to power is only temporary.

Ireland was good in the final match of the season but France was that much better. It must be remembered that the European club was an unknown strength following the retirement of several key players and the selection of new blood after last season's unbeaten championship side.

B.C. Ready with First $50,000 for World's Starving Children

Premier Bennett yesterday blamed the federal government for delay in a provincial program designed to provide up to $1,000,000 for relief of starvation in underdeveloped countries.

But he said that an order-in-council designed to provide the first $50,000 installment will go before the cabinet for approval this week.

He said the government had originally intended to seek the money from the legislature but was prevented from doing so when the federal government failed to reply to a B.C. request for a federal-provincial conference on the relief plan.

The money will be obtained by special warrant and administered by the Premier's Committee for World Relief under the chairmanship of Health Minister E. C. Martin.

Other members of the committee are Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, former director-general of the United Nations technical assistance administration, and Welfare Minister Wesley Black.

The premier said preliminary studies indicate that the fund would probably have maximum effect if directed to the UN's International Children's Emergency Fund.

Asked if he did not think there might be some objection by British Columbians to expenditure of provincial revenue outside the province, the premier pointed out that there were few objections when B.C. sent relief to residents of a flooded English community two years ago.

Challenge Brings Chuckle

Premier Bennett yesterday chuckled over a byelection challenge hurled earlier in the day by Oak Bay Progressive Conservative candidate James A. A. George.

Told by reporters that Mr. George had said an early Oak Bay byelection would be a test of the Social Credit government's popularity — particularly with respect to the Wenner-Gren development in northern B.C. — the premier asked, "Who's he? I never heard of him."

He said Oak Bay electors would get a chance to go to the polls before the next session of the legislature, but with an arch smile he refused to say whether they would be voting in a general election or a byelection.

When a reporter mentioned that Liberal Leader Ray Perrault had indicated he might run in an Oak Bay byelection, the premier quipped, "The Liberals don't run at all now, they creep."

The Oak Bay seat became vacant March 4 with the death of P. A. Gibbs, Liberal member since 1952.

Hanging Death of Boy Accident, Coroner Rules

Stephen Foster Fellow, 13, 537 Fraser, whose body was found Monday hanging from a rope in the Fraser Street Scout Hall, died by accidental hanging, coroner Dr. E. C. Hart ruled yesterday.

"There was no direct evidence of any kind," said Dr. Hart. "You just have to decide from the circumstances."

Little Boy Hurt On Museum Trip

A seven-year-old boy who found the exhibits of the Provincial Museum irresistible was struck by a car yesterday as he crossed a street with his little brother on the way home from a regular visit.

Wayne Saby, 320 Menzies, was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was treated for head injuries and abrasions.

SATISFACTORY

Hospital officials said last night the boy was in satisfactory condition.

The accident occurred at Menzies and Quebec about 4 p.m. Driver of the car was John Allen, 3039 Shelbourne, police said.

Glenn Saby, Wayne's father, said the boy loves to go to the museum and had made one of his regular visits yesterday with his five-year-old brother, Daryl.

ON WAY HOME

They were on the way home when the accident happened, he said.

"The first we heard of the accident was when Daryl came running home and said his brother had been hit," Mr. Saby said. "My wife and I arrived to find him lying on the street crying. The police were there seconds later."

"Apparently they were both trying to cross the street near the legislative building driveway when Wayne was hit," he said.

Which Way To Sidney?

Charges that signs on the Patricia Bay Highway were being replaced, omitting the name of Sidney village, were made at Sidney-North Saanich chamber of commerce meeting last night.

The new signs, it was claimed, pointed the way to ferries, the airport and Butchart Gardens, but no mention was made of the village.

PWA Still Trying For Victoria Route

Pacific Western Airlines definitely has not dropped its application to the Air Transport Board to take over the Patricia Bay-mainland air service, Trans-Canada Air Lines, a company spokesman said yesterday.

"We are waiting for word from the board," the spokesman said, denying recent intimations from other sources that PWA's application is "dead."

TCA OPPOSED If and when hearings are held by the board on the PWA application, Trans-Canada Air Lines has stated it will oppose giving up its franchise. The city of Victoria also has a brief ready, seeking continuation of TCA service.

Occupants Unhurt As Train Hits Car

A motorist and his passenger escaped uninjured when their car was hit by an E & N freight train at a crossing outside Esquimalt drydock at 8:25 a.m. yesterday.

Involved in the accident were Donald Jones, 457 Walter, driver, and Charles O'Toole, 1319, Government passenger, and E. W. Collins, 636 Raynor, in control of the freight engine, Esquimalt police said.

Fighter Wing Chief To Head Royal Roads

Group Capt. J. K. MacDonald of Antigonish, N.S., will become the new commandant of Royal Roads Canadian Services College. He is expected to succeed Col. P. S. Cooper in August, a college spokesman said yesterday. He is now commanding officer of No. 3 Fighter Wing in Zweibrücken, Germany.

Unionists Favor Church Link

Victoria Labor Council last night decided to affiliate with the interdenominational Religion-Labor Foundation despite objections by several delegates that some churches are anti-labor in outlook.

Most outspoken in opposition to the move was woodworkers' delegate Ed Haw, who said as a union official he found "the most vicious anti-union employers we have to deal with are those who go to church each Sunday."

"FAITHFUL"

He pointed to the anti-labor record of the present governments in Newfoundland and the Union of South Africa, claiming they are composed of "faithful church-goers."

This prompted a retort from the floor that if more unionists belonged to the church of their choice "this relationship might be different."

A. W. Toome, secretary-treasurer of the council, spoke in support of affiliation with the national group, which he

By JIM TAYLOR

A tax increase of 1½ to two mills in Oak Bay was forecast by Reeve George Murdoch last night after a study of preliminary figures on the 1960 municipal budget.

"That would work out to about $20 for people with a $10,000 home, which isn't too high under the circumstances," he said. "Any increase that comes will come because of increased wages for inside and outside workers and for police and firemen."

"But I would say the outlook is far from pessimistic."

BUDGET SOON

Council will begin to deal with the estimates in closed committee meeting following Monday night's regular council meeting. The budget will be brought down within two weeks.

There was the possibility that council would pare something off the budget to hold the line, but Mr. Murdoch did not seem too confident.

BARREL BOTTOM

"The only way we could do that would be to find some way to increase the revenue or do some cutting back on public works," he said. "I believe we have reached the bottom of the barrel in finding revenue, and we would not want to see any cutting on public works."

Oak Bay has budgeted for expenditures of $1,863,498, compared to $1,536,717 in 1959. School mill rate will likely remain the same, with a total of $82,030 needed for school costs.

High Honors In Scouting

Thunderbird Park was a sea of badges Wednesday afternoon—badges worn proudly by 234 of the outstanding Boy Scouts and Girl Guides of British Columbia.

The 172 Scouts and 62 Guides, from all parts of the province, are to be honored today at Government House, when Lieutenant-Governor Frank M. Ross will present them with the highest service awards of their organizations.

The Queen's Scout certificate and the Gold Cord for the Girl Guides.

LUNCHEON

Ceremony will take place at 2:15, following a luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. Ross.

Mr. Ross will be acting in his capacity as patron of the Boy Scouts.

NAVY SHIPS

Scouts and Guides from the mainland arrived at Esquimalt yesterday aboard HMCS Fraser and HMCS Beacon Hill.

They joined 22 Victoria and Island Scouts and Guides at Thunderbird Park to meet the families with whom they will be billeted during their stay.

This morning they are to tour the legislative buildings and the Provincial Museum and swim at the Crystal Garden.

They will assemble at noon at Thunderbird Park, go by bus from there to Government House, and be presented to Mr. and Mrs. Ross for the luncheon.

COUNCIL DINNER

They will march back to the park following the ceremonies, and attend a B.C. Boy Scout Council dinner at the Empress Hotel at 6:15.

They leave Victoria at 7:30 a.m. Friday.

Mill Bay Ferry Off

The Brentwood-Mill Bay ferry will be out of service from Monday to Friday next week while the Mv. Mill Bay undergoes annual overhaul. Service will resume with the 8 a.m. sailing from Brentwood Saturday, April 30.

Chamber Supports Wharf at Sidney

A plan for a fishermen's wharf for Sidney won the support of the Sidney-North Saanich Chamber of Commerce last night.

The wharf site would be on Rest Haven Drive between Harbor Road and the hospital causeway. Some 300 feet of channel would have to be dredged for access.

The plan was presented by Axel Ostrom, president of the Sidney local of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union.

A petition circulated last month got 200 signatures. Peter Payne, a marina operator, told the chamber that marinas of the area supported the plan in principle but urged that the wharf be exclusively for fishermen.

Family and Children Service, an agency of the Community Chest, 1951 Cook Street, will hold its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the assembly room of the YWCA, 760 Courtney Street.

Fire in Sidney Store Causes Heavy Damage

Fire in a rear stock room at Bernard Shaw's women's wear shop in Sidney last night caused heavy smoke and heat damage to merchandise.

Sidney volunteer fire department had the blaze under control within minutes.

Mr. Shaw said he could not estimate the damage until he was able to have a good look in the daylight.

The store will likely be closed for a week for redecorating, he said. The stock was fully insured.

Firemen are still investigating cause of the blaze.

Over 100 Intermediate CGIT girls from Victoria and district are expected to attend a Jungle Jam-boree, Saturday, April 23, at First United Church from 10.30 a.m. to 4 p.m. During the varied program Sharon Ralph, left, president of the council, will give a talk on correct uniform. Here she is seen helping Gail McDermid to adjust the "friendship knot." Closing worship will be led by Dr. Laura Butler of Metropolitan Church.

Legend Persists

Venturesome Margaret Makes Royal History

LONDON (Reuters)—Princess Margaret will leave behind a gay and adventurous bachelor girlhood when she creates royal history in marrying a commoner May 6.

Not for 457 years has the daughter of a British king given her hand to a plain "mister" and her choice—a talented photographer—is the most striking example of Margaret's unwavering determination to live her own life.

When Antony Armstrong-Jones takes the 29-year-old princess to be his wife, she will be fulfilling the simplest ambition of any modern girl—to marry the man of her choice.

DREW REPROOFS

Since childhood, she has been the most independent, venturesome member of the Royal Family. For this, she often drew reproaches from her mother, the queen, Elizabeth.

On their first visit to the London zoo in 1939, for instance, the nine-year-old Margaret enthusiastically gave her whole bag of buns to the elephants—a gesture which drew a lecture from Elizabeth. Then, in 1945, the princess, then 15, was able to laugh

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Six weeks ago our 17-year-old daughter told my wife she is pregnant. Her boy friend, who will soon be 20, wants to marry her and she wants to marry him. They say they are in love and are sorry they lost their heads.

He has a good job and money saved. I haven't barred him from our home but I refuse to grant them permission to marry.

My wife and the boy's parents don't share my views. We are having some fierce arguments over this.

I say if they're really in love they can wait until the girl is 18. After she has the baby she'll be able to be more objective about him. Right now they are too emotional to make a sound decision.

In your column you have repeatedly stated you're against shotgun marriages. I hope you'll stick by your original stand. Please say it again. — CANADIAN READER.

Dear Canadian: I'm against dragging a boy to the altar because the girl is pregnant. This sort of groom makes a poor father and a worse husband.

Such is not the case in your family, however. This boy wants to marry your daughter and you should not stand in the way.

I suspect you're being punitive in retaliation for the disappointment and unhappiness you've suffered. I hope you'll reconsider and give them your blessings at once. And please, let me hear from you. I'll feel better knowing these two are married.

Wants Top Billing

Dear Ann: When our friends write to us they often start the letters "Dear Mary and Bill." This infuriates my husband because he feels his name should be before mine.

Whenever we send out cards I always sign "Bill and Mary" because I know how he feels.

Just yesterday we got another "Dear Mary and Bill" letter and he became furious. He insisted I tell these "ignoramuses" how to address married people if they don't know better.

Ann, is there a right and a wrong way? If so, what is it? — JUST MARY.

Dear Mary: There is no hard-and-fast rule on this. It's largely a matter of choice. As a matter of courtesy, the person who signs the gift card usually puts his name last. So as it is a larger problem exists in your family than whose name comes first on the card or letter. A man who is so hungry for a crumb of recognition that he'd make an issue of this trifle must be sadly insecure.

Told Them the Same

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 16 and have a terrific crush on a fellow who is head of everything in our school. He has dated me a few times and when I'm with him I feel just like a queen. Last night he told me some very nice things and I was quite puffed up at having received so many wonderful compliments.

This morning my dream ended when I learned from a couple of my closest girl friends that he had told them exactly the same things. Do you think that maybe he meant it with all three of us, or is this guy handing out a smooth, well-rehearsed line? — Y. L. AND M.

Dear Y. L. and M.: It would be wiser for all of you to learn at this tender age that a compliment is like perfume. It's right to take a whiff—but don't swallow it!

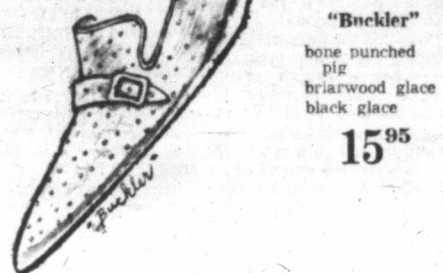

To learn the body-traps of teenage drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing your request, 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One Hundred Today

Mrs. Josephine Mary Skidmore of Rose Manor, Victoria, is having a tea party today with a special birthday cake, as she is 100 years old. Born in Godalming, Surrey, England, she came to B.C. as an 18-year-old bride of Mr. Percy Brown. She has lived at various places on the West Coast and for many years pioneered on Salt Spring Island, making a tent her first home there. In later years she remarried. Many of her family followed her to Canada from England and several relatives will be with her to celebrate today. They include Mrs. J. Brydges of Clayoquot, Mr. Neil MacLeod, Mrs. T. A. White, and her son of Tofino. (Robin Clarke photo.)

Horseshoe Carried By English Bride

Old English custom of carrying a horseshoe for good luck was seen at recent marriage of Fay Benita House and Alexander Gordon Nelson in St. Mark's Anglican Church at Ganges on Salt Spring Island.

The silvered toned horseshoe topped with a dove and a flower was gift to the bride from her homeland. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. House, Portsmouth, Eng., and her groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson, Ganges.

Archdeacon G. H. Holmes officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Betty Colbrook, Victoria, sang "Oh, Perfect Love," accompanied by organist, Mrs. W. Palmer.

W. F. Thorburn gave the bride in marriage. She wore a bouffant floor-length gown of white nylon organza, the princess lines accentuated with high Empire waistline with self-band insert and bow. Sleeves were lily-point and the wide, rounded neckline was outlined by tiny floral appliques with rhinestone centres. A matching band insert and bows circled the full skirt at hipline. Chapel veil was held with a seed pearl coronet and the bride carried a white prayer book topped with red roses and white heather. Miss Beverly Thew, Victoria, as bridesmaid, wore a ballerina-length gown of blue velvet with matching head-dress and she carried white carnations and heather. Flower girl Carol Nobles, also of Victoria, was in a dress of white nylon over blue taffeta with blue velvet sash. She wore a small white hat and carried a basket of pink and white flowers. Best man for his brother was Edward Nelson, Victoria, and ushering was Const. Gale Gardner, RCMP.

"THE SONG OF SHAWNIGAN"

An electric range may be fast & clean, And the gadgets too... cute 'n' keen— But they've no personality, as they should, Like this one at the Lake, a "coal & wood."

Now... H-E-R-E is a stove... cream & black, The busiest thing, we have in our shack— It's always kicking up some sort of fuss, And making demands... from all of us. It's noisy & cranky... and full of fight, And a never ending appetite.

It tries to take me for a chump, 'Cept I love chopping wood on that old stump. But once it gets going, it turns sunnysweet, And warms the kettle, as well as my feet. Then I have to dump ashes, and boy, what a mess, But they warm my gloves, so sort of bless. But it's in the evening... it does alone, Yes... after supper... it comes into its own. So gentle then... just a spark or so, And the sound of ashes... falling below. The kettle is singing a soft lullaby, When this old McLary... heaves a great sigh, Her heart is happy, as we all go to rest, In our Little Grey Home, Out HERE IN THE WEST.

England New Home For Newlyweds

A couple married in Christ Church Cathedral recently are spending their honeymoon travelling to England.

Miss Verna Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Niblock of Medicine Hat, exchanged vows with Sub-Lt. Donald Wallis Wilson, RCN, son of Mr. N. O. Wilson of Saturna Island, and Mrs. Wilson of Vancouver.

Canon R. E. H. Howell officiated. The groom is on a course for the Royal Canadian Navy and the newlyweds will live in Plymouth, England for the next year.

The bride wore a white gown of heavy brocade with fitted bodice slightly rounded neckline, wrist-length sleeves and floor-length skirt. Scallop headpiece held a net veil, bounded with silk cord.

She carried a bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis. Bride's sister, Miss Patricia Niblock, was maid of honor. She wore a short length of gaza dress in turquoise tone. Her bandeau was of feathers studded with sequins. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

Best man was Sub-Lt. Bruce MacLeod, RCN, and ushers were Sub-Lt. Stan Remik, RCN, and Sub-Lt. Douglas Henderson.

Officers' wardroom in HMCS Fraser where the groom was stationed before departure for Plymouth, was setting for a reception.

For travelling the bride donned a two-piece green flannel suit. Her tiny net whimsie was in tone and she wore brown accessories. White carnation corsage completed the ensemble.

THE JOY OF SEEING

The gift of seeing is one of man's greatest blessings. The mother can see her new born child, the gardener can enjoy the beauty of the flowers he grows, the worker can see the result of his labor. Guard this precious asset well. Have your eyes examined regularly and remember "One pair of glasses cannot be adequate for all purposes."

Psychologist Blasts Favorite Color Myth

NEW YORK (UPI)—Most women like certain colors and can't stand others. Now along comes a color psychologist to tell us that no color is intrinsically good or bad, pleasant or unpleasant.

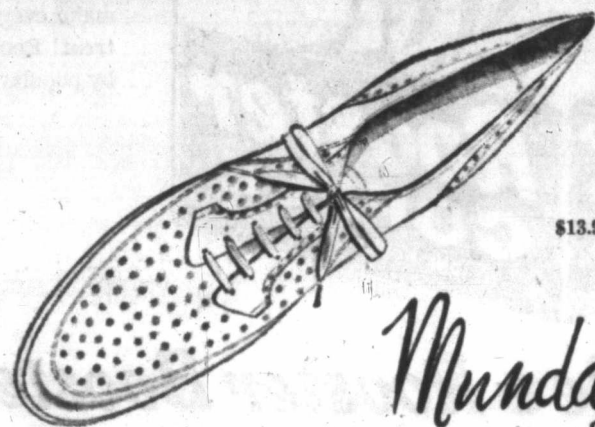

"A color's appeal," said Dr. Harry Nelson, "depends upon the hue of the background and the nature of illuminant—lighting—under which it is seen."

The professor of psychology from the University of Texas maintains that colors are not like oysters. That is—"one does not either like or dislike them."

Expert to Tell Travelling Tips

Carol Lane, leading authority on touring for women, will reveal some of the "keys to family fun by car" to the Canadian Association of Consumers on Monday, April 25 at 8 p.m. in music room of the Public Library.

Miss Lane travels thousands of miles across Canada each year, checking accommodations and recreation areas to get new ideas designed to make touring easier and more pleasant for the whole family. In her talk, she will tell how her personal approach to travel can help women make motoring holidays what they should be. Miss Lane will also discuss a new trend in travel—the discovery of little-known places. She will show the group how to plan "Tour-ettes" (weekend vacations), how to plan a travel budget and how to pack a car.

One of the highlights of Miss Lane's presentation will be a visual demonstration of how to plan a two-week vacation wardrobe. She will show her four basic costumes for any two-week holiday and explain how they can be mixed and matched to provide a complete travel wardrobe.

What's Cooking!

Cheese Dreams Only 20 Cents Per Dozen

From the "favorite recipe files" in Canada's Kitchen we've chosen two recipes for squares and one each for drop, rolled and sliced cookies. You'll notice that all recipes call for butter.

REFRIGERATOR FINWHEELS

One cup butter, ½ cup brown sugar (sifted), ½ cup white sugar, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups all-purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 squares chocolate, melted.

Cream butter and add sugar. Add unbeaten egg and mix well. Add flavoring. Sift flour with soda and salt and add one-third at a time to the butter mixture. Divide dough in half.

To one-half add melted chocolate. Roll each half separately into rectangles of the same size, about ¼-inch thick. Place chocolate piece on top of white one and press the 2 portions together. Roll like a jelly roll.

Wrap in waxed paper on aluminum foil and refrigerate or freeze. Slice and bake on a cookie sheet in a hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit), 6 to 8 minutes. Yield: approximately 5 dozen. Cost—approximately 11c a dozen.

CHEESE DREAMS

One cup butter, 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese (medium or old), ¼ cup granulated sugar, 2 cups all-purpose flour.

Cream together butter, cheese and sugar. Gradually add flour stirring until well blended. Pat the mixture into a cake pan (9"x9"). Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 5 minutes. Yield: 4½ dozen (1½" square). Cost—approximately 20c per dozen.

One-half cup sugar, 1½ cups sifted pastry flour or 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, grated rind of 1 lemon, ¼ cup butter, 1 egg, ½ cup raspberry jam.

Mix and sift together sugar, flour, baking powder and salt. Add grated lemon rind. Cut in butter with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles fine oatmeal. Add well-beaten egg, blending thoroughly. Press two-thirds of the mixture into a greased 7"x7" cake pan, dot with the jam. Drop the remaining ¼ of the dry mixture by spoonfuls on the jam. Bake in a moderate oven (350F) until lightly browned, 40 to 45 minutes. These are best when eaten fresh. Yield: 4 dozen (1½" squares). Cost—approximately 10c per dozen.

SUGAR COOKIES

One-half cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, 1½ cups all-purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon almond.

Cream butter and add sugar gradually. Add unbeaten egg and mix well. Sift flour with cream of tartar, soda, and salt. Add gradually to the mixture. Add vanilla and almond flavoring. Wrap and chill. Roll ½ inch thick, cut with cookie cutter. Sprinkle each cookie with sugar and place on slightly buttered cookie sheet. Bake in hot oven (400F) 8 to 10 minutes. When cookies are cool store in a tin box. Yield: 4 dozen. Cost—approximately 8c a dozen.

FRUITY DROPS

One-third cup butter, 1 egg, 3 tablespoons milk (approximately), ½ cup chopped dates, ¼ cup brown sugar, 1½ cups all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup chopped walnuts.

Cream butter and sugar, add egg and beat well. Add flavoring, then flour sifted with baking powder, milk, fruit and nuts. Mix. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375F) for 15 minutes. Yield: 7 dozen. Cost—approximately 7c a dozen.

One-half cup sugar, 1½ cups sifted pastry flour or 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, grated rind of 1 lemon, ¼ cup butter, 1 egg, ½ cup raspberry jam.

Mix and sift together sugar, flour, baking powder and salt. Add grated lemon rind. Cut

Bowcott-Whipple

Niece, Nephew Attend Bride

In St. Mary's Anglican Church, Saanichton, at a double-ring ceremony performed Saturday evening by the Rev. O. Foster, Nicolette Eileen, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Whipple, Saanichton, was united in marriage with Mr. Raymond Bowcott, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bowcott, Sidney.

The bride, wearing a waltz-length gown of white net and jacket fashioned with lily-point sleeves, entered the church on the arm of her father to traditional wedding music, played by Mr. R. Boultellier, organist. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses tied with white ribbons and her hem-length veil fell from a coronet of net and seed pearls.

The bridesmaid, Miss Carol Green wore a light blue nylon chiffon waltz-length frock, a headband of white carnations and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's niece, little two-year old Judy Bowcott, dressed in a pale pink flower embroidered frock, carrying a basket of blue daisies with matching headband was flower girl while her little brother, four-year old Fredrick was his aunt's ring-bearer.

The best man was Mr. Denis Bowcott, the groom's only brother. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 8888 Marshall Road, for relatives and close friends.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Captain Frank Green. After the reception the couple left for a honeymoon on the mainland.

For travelling the bride chose a turquoise blue knitted suit, white picture hat and white accessories with a corsage of white carnations.

Her wedding bouquet was sent to Miss Norma Marshall who was to have been maid of honor but due to illness was unable to be there.

Emmond-Fatt

In a candlelit ceremony Wednesday night, Marina Lillian Fatt was married to Mr. George Stanford Emmond, in St. John's Anglican Church, with Canon George Biddle officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fatt, 407 Cook Street, are parents of the bride. Groom is son of Mrs. G. A. Emmond of Benito, Man. Flowered appliques trimmed the bride's white nylon organza gown. Her fingertip veil was held by a tiny pearl cap. She carried a prayer book, used at the wedding of her parents, which was covered with pink roses and streamers.

Mrs. R. D. Walker, sister of the bride, attended her, dressed in a short gown of turquoise silk with a pink chiffon sash and bow. Her crescent bouquet was of pink carnations.

The bride's niece, Margot

Walker, was her other attendant. She wore a dress of flowered nylon over pink and a basket of flowers with matching flowers in her hair.

Mr. Robert Meadows acted as groomsmen. Mr. F. E. Gray and Mr. Walter Emmonds were ushers.

A reception at Royal Victoria Yacht Club followed the ceremony. For her going away outfit the new Mrs. Emmond chose a pure silk dress of sea-spray green with white accessories. The newlyweds will make their home in Winnipeg.

IODE Chapter Gives $100 to University

Plans were made to hold a bridge tea at the Jubilee Hospital to commemorate the birthday of Florence Nightingale May 12. This was announced at the regular meeting of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, held recently and Mrs. G. C. Baker and Mrs. A. R. Minnis were named general conveners.

The sum of $100 was voted to the University of Victoria Building fund. Books and treats will be sent to the chapter's adopted school at Sidney Inlet, flowers will be placed in the Veterans hospital and the regent will represent the chapter at the Memorial Day service at the Cross of Sacrifice in June.

Mrs. G. C. Baker presented a report on the provincial annual meeting held in Vancouver.

Members donated soup and juice which will be given to the home for retarded children.

Governor-General Vanier toasts Charles de Gaulle at state dinner in Ottawa.

Vanier Recalls Moving Scene

OTTAWA (CP)—Governor-General Vanier recalled wartime memories of Gen. de Gaulle Tuesday night when he replied to the French president's address at a dinner given in the French Embassy.

Gen. Vanier recalled a ceremony in a partly ruined chapel at Vincennes, France, in 1944, when Gen. de Gaulle led services to honor French Resistance heroes shot by German firing squads.

Gen. Vanier attended as Canadian ambassador to France. It was one of the most moving moments of his life, he said.

"I had then the vision of a new France, a France united in the communion of extended hands, the extended hands of a sorrowing people who had confidence in their chief and the future of their country."

French Newspapers Play Up De Gaulle's Canadian Talks

PARIS (UPI)—President de Gaulle's progress in Canada is pushing French domestic problems and other world news onto the inside pages of French newspapers.

The non-Communist press is devoting pages and pages to descriptions of the ceremonies, banquets, colorful incidents and the press conference given by the French president.

Special attention was devoted to the official and private talks held by de Gaulle with Canadian leaders on the main political subjects of the summit conference of May 16. The French press noted with great interest de Gaulle's first hint that a solution about Germany and Berlin should not be expected at the East-West summit conference if a real relaxation of tension is to be sought between the two camps.

In official French circles it is being said with satisfaction that Canadian leaders apparently now share the French view that control of the means of delivery of nuclear weapons is essential.

Officials acknowledge that the basic difference of opinion between France and Canada about halting atomic tests is as strong as ever.

But the fact that the Canadian leaders admit the French contention that mere ceasing of atomic tests is not a measure of disarmament is good news for Paris.

The French president, mobbed and acclaimed by thousands, has been stressing the issues in speeches in most cases without referring to a text.

"I was happy yesterday to have been meeting with Mr. (Harold) Macmillan. Tomorrow I shall be meeting with Mr. Eisenhower. Just now I have been meeting with the prime minister of Canada. In my talks with him I have found that quality of lucidity and firmness which is essential today in the debate which is being engaged in across the world. The presence of France — its influence — is essential."

De Gaulle goes to Montreal today. From Toronto Friday, he flies to Washington and pre-summit talks with President Eisenhower. He will also make three side trips to U.S. cities and will visit French possessions in the Caribbean.

De Gaulle Hopes Summit Will Sweeten Relations

OTTAWA (CP)—President Charles de Gaulle of France is hoping that a detente—cessation of strained relations—between East and West will be achieved at next month's summit meeting in Paris.

That is the salient point that emerged from a statement issued Wednesday by Prime Minister Diefenbaker on talks with the French leader, now in Quebec City.

The statement indicated that Gen. de Gaulle is not expecting any major breakthroughs on East-West issues at the summit conference, but welcomes it as an opportunity to lay the basis for understanding.

"The president was most hopeful that the conference would produce a climate of detente in which such difficult problems as those presented by the situation in Berlin, the partition of Germany . . . could continue to be the subject of further discussions among the Big Four powers," the statement said.

"He was hopeful that some agreement might be reached on the reciprocal control of missiles and of strategic aircraft capable of carrying atomic weapons."

Jetty Job Awarded

A $79,283 contract for repairs to the jetty at Patricia Bay has been awarded Victoria Pile Driving Co. by the federal public works department.

Work, scheduled for completion in eight months, includes rebuilding the superstructure of the jetty, which is used for mooring air-sea rescue vessels and for loading and unloading supplies for the RCN and RCAF.

Queen Provides Young Couple Rent-Free Home

LONDON (CP)—Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones were relieved of a housing problem Wednesday when the Queen announced they will be given a rent-free home at Kensington Palace.

The young couple, to be married May 6, will move into the 18th-century building in Kensington Gardens about mid-June.

The announcement from Buckingham Palace said: "The Queen has offered to the Princess Margaret and Mr. Antony Armstrong-Jones a grace and favor residence at Kensington Palace which they have been very pleased to accept."

The house recently became vacant with the death of Lord Carisbrooke.

It is a red-brick, three-storey building, adjoining the main part of the palace.

Inside the main entrance is a high white hall which leads to a wide staircase. A big drawing room has four windows overlooking the palace courtyard. Next to it on the ground floor is a small dining room.

Three main bedrooms are on the second and third floors, along with several bathrooms.

The Princess' next-door neighbors will include the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra. Princess Alice of Athlone and the Duke of Beaufort.

Fulton Checks Prison

Hospital, 'Solitary' Chief Targets

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton went to prison Wednesday as a visitor.

He said the visit to the B.C. penitentiary here was made as a routine inspection planned more than two months ago.

But it was set against a background of criticism, made inside and outside the House of Commons, of the prison's medical facilities and close confinement policies.

The minister inspected the prison hospital and its close confinement areas but had no comment concerning the criticism.

Steps were being taken to relieve overcrowding, he said.

He satisfied himself that a sexual psychopath, held in close confinement for nearly four years was there at his own request because he fears attack by other prisoners for a breach of confidence outside. He spent a half-hour with the inmates' committee, during which he heard inmate requests on parole, pre-release programs and segregation of drug addicts.

Mr. Fulton spent more than two hours touring the prison, where 651 men serving terms of two years or more now are held in accommodations originally designed for 550.

One man died in close confinement in December, 1958, without medical attention.

Death of John Waslychen, an acute asthma sufferer, sparked criticism of the prison's medical facilities.

He said plans for B.C. peni-tentary development are held up pending a new maximum security institution in Western Canada, and 200 communities want to be considered as the site.

The cabinet has already approved minimum security work camps in various areas to help relieve overcrowding. Some might be in operation this summer.

Today Mr. Fulton will fly to Vancouver Island to visit the William Head minimum security prison.

Show Business

By Dick Williams

Veteran stage and screen director Joshua Logan received his first summons to Hollywood back in the 30s to direct dialogue for "The Garden of Allah" starring Charles Boyer and Marlene Dietrich. He planned to stay with old friends Henry Fonda and Jimmy Stewart, then still bachelors and sharing a house in Hollywood.

But on landing, Logan was driven directly to a story conference with producer David O. Selznick at the studio. The meeting lasted until daylight the next morning. When it was over, Selznick offered Logan a lift, and a few minutes later the chauffeur was driving through a gate between two bronze lions and up a driveway lined with palm trees and luxuriant foliage.

Logan's sleepy eyes bugged. "Boy, is Fonda putting on the dog!" he sneered. "Now I know what going Hollywood means. This is just plain bad taste!"

From beside him Selznick answered quietly, "This is my house."

No Outsiders In the Choir

AIKEN, S.C. (AP) — A middle-aged man appeared in the choir loft of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church and asked the nun directing the children's choir if he might join in singing the offertory hymn.

"I'm very sorry," she said, "only choir members are permitted in the loft. You'll have to go downstairs."

After mass the rejected vocalist joined the pastor, whom he had met previously, and they chuckled over the strictness of the choir director.

Then Bing Crosby went on his way.

Save That Year!

Study Habits Can Trip You

By JACK HUTTON

Failing a school year is a bit like dying. It always happens to somebody else. "It couldn't happen to me." Two of every 10 university students reading this will probably fail. And the same statistics apply to grade 9 or 13 students. Many have still time to pass—if they will only obey a few signposts.

TWO POINTS

If you hold to the foolish philosophy that it can't happen to you—in public school, high school, university or night classes—sit down, grip your notepad tightly and consider these statistics:

1. More than 80 per cent of us by the time we have reached Grade 9 have acquired one or more poor study habits—probably more. And they get worse as the work piles up.

GET MOST

2. Each one of us, professor, parent, businessman or student, can improve reading habits and reorganize evening leisure time to get the most out of it.

I found during a school survey that most guidance directors feel they are preaching to the converted.

FRANTIC NOTES

The students who listen are the ones who already organize their study evenings, and those who don't are the ones who really should be taking frantic notes.

"Each fall, I teach several lessons on how to study," one guidance director told me. "But I know that it sails over most heads. It isn't until their ship is sinking that most realize what I meant in the first place."

GET BACK

Even now it isn't too late—to salvage a lost year, to add 10 per cent to your final average, to put yourself back in the annual scholarship races. School is like the top part of an iceberg; the remainder "under water" is the time which the student must spend studying at home.

ON AVERAGE

During two years of specialized education coverage, I have been unable to pin educators down on exact homework hours.

But the high school student—on an average—should spend at least 45 minutes on homework in Grade 9 and three hours by Grade 13, according to Canadian education experts.

TWO STRIKES

Do you work against the distractions of blaring radios and TV western shows? If so, you have two strikes against your chances immediately. And—without meaning to be unkind—you have the disadvantage of an inconsiderate family.

Success in school also depends upon many supposedly unrelated factors. Do you get enough sleep? Do you get enough exercise? A good breakfast, is your posture alert?

BE ORGANIZED

The most important factor in school work—no matter what the grade level—can be boiled down to two words: be organized.

The bank clerk is careful, about his entries. And today's student has to be just as careful in planning his evening's work. Sit down right now—it is no use waiting—and make a list of your activities.

BE HONEST

Put down the time when you begin your activities between school and bedtime. Be honest.

Include your meals, radio or TV shows, homework, just talking, or hobbies, and list the time you spend on each. Try and remember what you do each night of the school week.

SHOULD GO

Your next job—and here is where you must be completely honest—is to make another list. List where you feel your time should go.

A Tourist in Moscow

Sightseers
Unleashed,
Unwatched

The Soviet Union has opened the floodgates to tourists, and this year thousands of North Americans will be sightseers in the once sealed-off nation. This is the first in a series of articles by Canadian newsmen Alex Kent presenting highlights of a recent visit to Moscow.

By ALAN KENT

So this is Moscow, in April, 1960—seen through the eyes of an everyday tourist.

But the eyes of this tourist were somewhat confused by what they saw, for Moscow wasn't quite what he'd expected.

Who'd have thought you could wander through the Kremlin, snapping pictures at will, without a guide?

Who'd have thought you could stroll up and down the broad avenues and squares, and through the mean little backwater streets of the old city, with no restraint at all and none of the proverbial being-watched feeling?

Who'd have imagined that 100 times in four days you'd be beset and badgered on the streets by young men working openly for the black market, trying to buy your dollars at premium rates, begging you to sell them your suit, your shirt, even your underwear?

Who could anticipate the surly inefficiency of the state-operated Intourist, the agency that in newly tourist-conscious Russia had been entrusted with the job of catering to all the tourist's desires?

Who'd have supposed, for that matter, that a newspaper reporter who'd tried off-and-on for years to get a visa for Russia could get one in less than a day, merely by going through the "regular channels" as a tourist?

Strictly Tourist Stuff

And it WAS simply as tourists that six of us—all Canadian journalists—spent four strange and enlightening days in Moscow, flown in and out again courtesy of KLM, the Royal Dutch Airline, on the inauguration of KLM's new Lockheed Electra turbo-prop service from Amsterdam to the Soviet capital.

Not one of us knew a word of Russian—and thank heaven none of us was expected to do any journalistic masterminding of what makes Russia tick.

Even a tourist runs into enough red-tape runaround and officious inefficiency. I shudder to think of the frustrations of a working newspaperman in Moscow—and frustrations not necessarily

You hear tales and dire warnings from your friends before you leave:

"Take soap—they won't provide you with any." (Not true.)

"Don't take any dollars with you or you'll get into trouble." (Not true.)

"People won't talk to you for fear of getting arrested themselves." (Not true.)

My chief admonition to anyone reading these articles and planning a visit to Moscow would be this:

"Take your sense of humor with you." (You'll need it.)

Everything Loused Up

And I'd add this—"Don't go alone, or you'll quickly lose that sense of humor. And don't go with anyone who isn't the kind who'll share the laughs with you when everything gets loused up."

For the most part the officials, and without exception the people like hotel clerks and maids and taxi drivers and waiters, are courteous—but I guess they just haven't had much experience with non-official visitors of the strictly tourist variety.

So when you arrive in the evening, it's YOUR fault that you're too late to change your cash or traveller's cheques for rubles until the next day.

$17 Treatment for $30

You've ordered the $30-a-day all-inclusive rate (good hotel, meals, guide and interpreter pre-paid, for the full visit; but you find you're down for the $17.50 treatment—not so good a room and meals only).

Too bad.

But neither wild horses nor mild pleading nor offers of extra payment-on-the-spot can rectify the mistake made by a shadowy somebody at some other level of operations.

So you might as well relax, and give yourself a chance to enjoy it.

Stop wishing for a hotel room that has something a little fancier than this raw, unpainted toilet seat in a vast, drafty mausoleum of a bathroom. Don't complain that there's no stopper for the basin, or that the light's in the farthest corner away from the shaving mirror, or that the bathroom paper (surely the Russian version of sandpaper) is renewed only on Tuesdays regardless of what the Moscow water may have done to your digestion.

Let it go that that blanket on the bed's too short; that the windows are sealed with tape against the winter winds, though now it's spring.

You might as well laugh, for it's not going to be changed for you.

So get out-of-doors and have a look at this fabled and long inaccessible capital of World Communism.

The prisoners began the strike last Tuesday to protest what they considered the curtailment of their privileges, including being free to move from cell to cell.

Manitoba Trouble

Farm Floods
Still Rising

WINNIPEG (CP)—Volunteers and municipal work crews tried Wednesday to hold in check a rising lake of floodwater from the Whitemud river that has covered thousands of acres of farmland in the Westbourne-Woodside district of Manitoba.

Arborg, 73 miles north of Winnipeg on the Icelandic River, was the only community to report new flood troubles Wednesday. Highway 68 was closed at the town and sandbag dikes had been placed in the central part of the town to guard against possible flooding.

However, the main rivers in the province dropped along their courses. The Red, the Assiniboine and the Seine all were down in the Winnipeg area.

Accident Victims
'Satisfactory'

Two victims of weekend accidents were reported in satisfactory condition in hospital yesterday.

Gordon Ross, 13, of 2861 Rockwell, suffered cuts and abrasions in a 30-foot fall from rocks into shallow water at Finlayson Arm, on the way to Brentwood. He is at St. Joseph's Hospital.

At Rest Haven Hospital, Sidney, Kenneth W. Bompas, 8620

Ebor Terrace, is being treated for chest, back and shoulder injuries received when he was pinned under an overturned tractor.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wes Janzen, 39-year-old social studies teacher from Surrey, was elected yesterday as president of the B.C. Teachers' Federation. Harold Palsom of Sooke was named second vice-president.

Britain Developing Weapon
To Blow Up Enemy Missiles

LONDON (UPI)—The London Evening Standard said yesterday Britain is developing a "radar device" to blow up missiles over the country that fires them.

The radar device was described as being able "to detect a rocket missile over the horizon and explode its H-bomb warhead over the country which fired it."

The Evening Standard said the new device will have "a profound effect on the whole balance of power between East and West and on the disarmament negotiations."

The newspaper said the Ministry of Defence had ordered a vast research program to perfect the instrument but that details of it were "top secret."

Revolt to End Today
President Promises

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—A revolt led by a disgruntled former army general broke out before dawn yesterday in San Cristobal, 500 miles west of here, and by nightfall loyal government troops and machete-wielding farmers had moved into position to crush the rebellion.

President Romulo Betancourt told the nation in a radio and television broadcast that the revolt was as yet "unfinished, but I promise to suffocate it in San Cristobal tonight or early Thursday morning."

The 500-man garrison at San Cristobal rebelled as if on signal from the leader of the revolt, exiled Gen. Jesus Maria Castro Leon, who had led a similar revolt in 1958.

They were quickly joined by 180 mercenaries reported to be from the Dominican Republic who entered Venezuela from Colombia.

SWUNG OVER—Three hundred other rebels sent to capture the San Antonio airport were reported to have swung over to the government's side.

Government planes strafed the rebel troops in San Cristobal and dropped leaflets demanding their immediate surrender.

Hard-fighting loyal troops had recaptured by nightfall one airfield seized by the rebels and were reported moving into position for a knockout punch.

Betancourt said the reason the government had been unable to finish off the rebels in a day was because the air force was unable to operate well in bad weather which prevailed over western parts of the nation.

In an earlier broadcast, Betancourt had told his people that the government had the situation under control.

The rebels were reported

Chaplain Going

To Fort Churchill

Capt. Alex Reid, chaplain of the 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry at Work Point, will be posted to Fort Churchill, Man., later this year. He has served well armed with mortars and machineguns, however.

In New York, a spokesman for Castro Leon, who asked not to be identified, denied that the revolt was dying and said the people were rising in support of the rebellion.

Castro Leon called his revolution "anti-Communist" and said it intended to "revindicate the honor of the Venezuelan armed forces." He urged government troops to join the "triumphal insurgency."

Use the Naran Plan to Lose Ugly Fat

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full twice a day and follow the Naran plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Shylock Denied His Flesh

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Shakespearean precedent was quoted in British Columbia Supreme Court Tuesday to deny a latter-day Shylock his pound of flesh.

A young lawyer appearing for a bank asked Mr. Justice T. G. Norris to award costs on the highest scale with a fore-closure order.

"There was a very important decision on that point a long time ago," the justice said. "You may remember 'The Merchant of Venice,' by William Shakespeare."

"But the contract provides for the bank to get its costs," the lawyer argued.

"It probably does," said Mr. Justice Norris. "But this is a bank which probably has more money than anybody else, and the other people's home is involved."

"You can appeal if you don't like my decision," the judge added with a smile. "I'll be glad to put my reasons in writing if you would like them."

The lawyer bowed out with a grin.

HAVANA, Cuba—Fidel Castro's government detained CBS correspondents Richard Bado and Mario Bascetta overnight, then deported them Wednesday.

SAVANNAH, Ga. — Ivey Whitaker, 43, killed a three-year-old boy with a shotgun blast and wounded a woman Wednesday before he was killed by a policeman.

NEW YORK — Walter Reuther declared Wednesday night that the United States must abandon its "negative approach" and face the question of how Communist China could enter the community of nations.

For Emergency

Winnipeg's Happy With '999' Calls

Greater Winnipeg's experience with a "999" emergency call system has "not been unhappy" since it was installed last July, Mayor Percy Scurrah was informed yesterday by Mayor Stephen Juba of Winnipeg.

Mayor Scurrah inquired into Winnipeg's experience in connection with the Greater Victoria study of desirability of installing a similar, single centre for all emergency calls.

STUDYING COSTS
At present, the B.C. Telephone Co. is carrying out a survey of details and costs of a Greater Victoria system, for submission to intermunicipal committee.

According to Mayor Juba's letter, the "999" system in Winnipeg serves 430,000 residents in 18 municipalities at a cost of nine cents a person a year.

NINE OPERATORS
Nine operators are employed to man the central switchboard, which handles calls for police, fire and other emergencies, and "to a degree" the caller is allowed to decide what constitutes an emergency.

Operators speak French.

Jobless Total In Canada Near Record

OTTAWA (CP)—Unemployment in Canada increased to 566,000 in mid-March, a rise of 11,000 from a month earlier, the government estimated Wednesday. This put unemployment within 31,000 of the post-war peak of 597,000 in March, 1959.

The rolls of jobless in mid-March, normally the peak month for unemployed, were 41,000 above a year earlier, the government's monthly job survey reported.

The number of persons with jobs showed little change between the survey dates of Feb. 20 and March 19, rising by 5,000 to 5,668,000. But this was 116,000 higher than the 5,552,000 in mid-March, 1959.

The estimates were made by the bureau of statistics, based on a survey of 30,000 households.

'You're Dead' Declares Policeman

BRISTOL, England (AP)—Tom Williams, 60, trudged down the street and the policeman said to him: "You're dead."

"Oh, no, I'm not," said Williams.

"But you were hit by a train and we buried you," said the constable.

"Not on your life," said Williams.

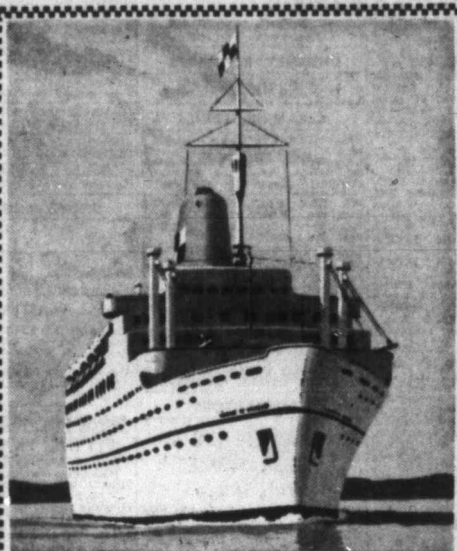

Inquiry developed that a train accident victim was buried as Williams six weeks ago. Scotland Yard fingerprint experts later identified the victim as Ernest Price.

Williams, absent at the time in Somerset, shook up the whole community when he returned.

An inquest has been scheduled to bring him back to life officially.

Grivas Defiled School Children

By PETER WORTHINGTON
Telegram News Service

Five years ago this month war of terror began in Cyprus.

By the time the conflict to have Cyprus given to mainland Greece was halted last year, more than 600 people had been murdered, 1,250 wounded, and countless incidents of sabotage had been committed.

Nightmare

He is George Grivas, leader of the EOKA terrorist organization that hounded and was hunted by 35,000 British soldiers for four nightmare years.

Officially Grivas is in retirement today—but he has become the plaything of Greek politicians.

If this man, who is a destroyer and not a builder, gets a grip on the political reins of Greece, the damage he could do to NATO and the economic structure of struggling Greece is enormous.

Terror Reign

Grivas WAS the Cyprus reign of terror. Without him there would have been little organized resistance.

When he sneaked into Cyprus to begin his 1955 campaign to force Britain to give Cyprus to Greece, Grivas had trouble rousing the blood-lust of Cypriots.

But school children and youth were the soil in which his seeds of sabotage and murder took root and flourished.

It is a fair statement to say Grivas corrupted and defiled a generation of school children.

Grivas is an odd-looking man. He is thin to the point of gauntness, has huge hands and large ears, boasts a great brush of a mustache and has deep, dark-haunted eyes that burn with furious moodiness.

Sabotage, Murder, Took Root

First, as a military man he knew the soldier's mind and could plan operations. Second, after the Second World War he fought a guerrilla war against the Communists in Greece, and learned to combine textbook soldiering with knife-in-the-back intimidation.

Grivas is a power seeker, not a searcher for wealth. Cyprus was his springboard to fame. Between 1949 and 1951 he ran for election three times to the Greek parliament—and didn't get even one per cent of the vote.

He is pathologically anti-Communist and completely ruthless and brutal. Death and massacres are normal to the 61-year-old George Grivas.

Recently Archbishop Makarios and George Grivas, have had a falling out.

Unless difficulties are soon soothed and smoothed over, there is a possibility that the retired terrorist may return to Cyprus to finish the job he started five years ago.

School Tax Boost Adds $3 to Home

Victoria city's school tax rate for 1960 will be 19.39 mills, up 6/10 of a mill from last year's, City Comptroller Dennis Young computed yesterday.

The increase is equal to 60 cents on each $1,000 of taxable assessment, or about $3 on the average home.

Winch Charges:

Low-Paid Labor For Wenner-Gren

VANCOUVER (CP)—Outspoken CCFer Harold Winch said Wednesday he has heard that Swedish industrialist Axel Wenner-Gren is recruiting low-paid European labor for work in the Rocky Mountain Trench development in British Columbia.

Mr. Winch, member of Parliament for Vancouver East, told a meeting of more than 550 unemployed workers here that a Danish friend had reported Wenner-Gren interests have been advertising in Danish papers for tradesmen.

"NOWHERE NEAR"

"And the rates are nowhere near the trade union rates in B.C.," Mr. Winch added. Secretary Pat O'Neal of the B.C. Federation of Labor also told of advertising campaigns in Holland and Denmark.

"We must do all we possibly can to prevent it," Mr. O'Neal said.

Attorney-General Bonner, who is also trade and industries minister, commented later in an interview that the memorandum of agreement between the B.C. government and Wenner-Gren B.C. Development Company stipulates preference shall be given to B.C. labor and materials.

He thought the report was a "malicious rumor," adding: "There is no scarcity of B.C. tradesmen and I am quite certain a corporation incorporated in the province, such as Wenner-Gren B.C. Development, would not for a moment contemplate such a practice." Company officials were not available for comment.

A-Testing Opposition Outlined to de Gaulle

From CP and UPI

OTTAWA—Canada's opposition to further testing of nuclear weapons was reaffirmed in talks with French President Charles de Gaulle, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said yesterday.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the French president "gave the impression that patience and perseverance was preferable to haste in the approach to problem's dividing the East and the West."

De Gaulle told the prime minister that "a detente (easing of tensions) between the two would greatly facilitate the eventual solution of individual problems."

In Quebec City yesterday President de Gaulle told a Laval University audience that French life and thought are "indispensable if the free world is to go on."

Snow Falls in Area Forecaster Baffled

Winter returned to outlying districts of Greater Victoria last night when heavy snow began to fall at Langford, Metcheson, Sooke and on the Malahat.

Weather office officials were baffled by the unscheduled snowfall. A spokesman said the temperature dropped eight degrees between 9 and 10.30 p.m. Snow began to fall about 9.30 p.m. in most areas and was expected to continue.

NANAIMO — British Columbia's economic expansion will continue during the 60s at an increased rate, or at least the same rate as in the past 20 years, Attorney-General Bonner predicted at a Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce meeting last night.

Mr. Bonner said this would be assured by the increasing Canadian population, the world's population explosion and more particularly the United States boom in population and need of natural resources.

Alaska's statehood will be very significant in B.C. industrial growth during the next 10 years, he said.

Development of northern Vancouver Island will be hastened by this fact.

The attorney-general predicted a highway to the northern tip of the Island connecting with Kitimat would very likely be realized in the early 1960s.

British Columbia's primary and secondary production stood at $2,000,000,000 in 1959 and by 1969 would reach $3,000,000,000, he said.

HIGHEST INCOME

The province maintains Canada's highest per capita income at $1,777, and in 10 years it will be 2,200, according to Mr. Bonner.

During the past five years British Columbia's total investment has not been below $1,200,000,000.

Mr. Bonner said this would be maintained during the 60s. Other predictions for the decade included a $1,000,000,000 highway program, $200,000,000 school expansion, the same for hospitals and similar institutions, and $50,000,000 for university education. This would be necessary to keep up with an expected population of 3,000,000 by 1969.

... special day

Mrs. Moore 101

Creampuffs All Around

Saturday will be a rather special day for tiny, bright-eyed Mrs. Susan Moore, a patient at Manor Private Hospital—it will be her 101st birthday.

And yesterday, as she did last year, Mrs. Moore bought creampuffs for the 18 other patients in the hospital and the staff.

Born in Cornwall, England, in 1859, Mrs. Moore is a descendant of the original pirates of Penzance—later of comic opera fame.

In 1911, at the age of 52, Mrs. Moore migrated to Canada and a few years later she married Thomas Moore, a Vancouver engineer. Mr. Moore died more than 30 years ago.

HOUSEKEEPER

After her husband's death, Mrs. Moore worked as a housekeeper until she was 63, when she retired to Victoria.

Rhee Saving Face?

SEOUL (CP)—The 12-member South Korean cabinet presented its resignation this morning to President Syngman Rhee.

Their action was reported to have followed a decision to assume responsibility for the violent anti-government student riots this week.

NEXT MOVE

There was no immediate confirmation whether the 84-year-old president, returned unopposed to his fourth term in an election the students claim was rigged, had accepted the resignations. The ministers quit en bloc.

Rhee's government has been officially rebuked by the United States and criticized by other countries for undemocratic handling of civilian demonstrators.

NOT AFFECTED

President Rhee, as the continuing executive power, is not subject to the ups and downs of cabinet membership.

A cabinet resignation might enable him to save face by shifting the target from himself to his departed ministers.

Heavily armed troops and police kept up a vigilant guard. The death count from Tuesday's rioting, now at 115, seems likely to reach or pass 150.

Ship Sinks Among Sharks

MANILA (UPI)—A fishing boat with 110 persons aboard and only one lifeboat, reported early today that it was sinking in the South China Sea.

The U.S. Navy destroyer Isvell we en route and a U.S. plane dropped two rubber life rafts to the 97-ton Marl V, which was foundering in an area infested with man-eating sharks.

Fulton Stuck in Lillooet

No $13,000,000, No Ride

A mere $13,000,000 might not have put federal Justice Minister Davie Fulton on a PGE freight train at Lillooet on Tuesday, but it might have won the sympathetic ear of the railroad's president.

Advised at a press conference that Mr. Fulton was denied passage on a PGE freight, Premier W. A. C. Bennett, who is also the line's president, was quick to point out that the publicly-owned railroad has never received some $13,000,000 which it claims is due from the federal government in construction and operating subsidies.

Anyway, he added, "Mr. Fulton did not contact the president of the railway."

The RCMP finally came to the rescue of the justice minister.

Mr. Fulton, now on a British Columbia tour, had to be in Pemberton, 42 miles away, for a 1.30 p.m. meeting, and the regular passenger train of the provincially-owned PGE wasn't scheduled to arrive until 6.30 p.m.

The justice minister was told he could not board the freight. Only train-crew and the RCMP allowed, an official said.

An appeal to PGE head office in Vancouver was turned down.

Mr. Fulton travelled 14 miles on another PGE train to Shalalth, where the road ends. There he intended to take a speedboat to D'Arcy—a other 14 miles—where the road begins again.

The water was too rough for speedboats, so the justice minister cooled his heels.

An RCMP Beaver aircraft happened along on "routine patrol" and took Mr. Fulton to Pemberton. He arrived at 4 p.m. and told patient Conservatives he had been "detained by reasons beyond my control."

Reprimand Stings Cowichan

NORTH COWICHAN — The department of transport is going to "hear" from council about one government employee who wrote reprimanding the municipality for its inaction in providing adequate lighting on the Chemainus government wharf.

Reeve Donald Morton said of a letter from J. A. Arsenault that he didn't like "the manner of tone," which he said was not justified.

TAKEN NO ACTION

Mr. Arsenault complained that the municipality had taken no action after receiving "numerous complaints" about the lighting.

Reeve Morton said no complaints had ever come before council, although he agreed with Coun. Gerald Smith that they may be justified.

He added that the installation of the wiring and its placing was the responsibility of Mr. Arsenault's employer, the transport department, and that the municipality was only responsible for changing the bulbs.

BAD INSTALLATION

Coun. Smith said the installation is so bad "you wouldn't even have it in your own house." Works superintendent Perry Ross is to investigate the lighting at the wharf for the municipality.

B.C. to Guard Municipal Timber Stand

NORTH COWICHAN — Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston has agreed to allow the B.C. Forest Service to supply fire protection for the municipality's forest reserve.

He agreed to a request by Reeve Donald Morton at a meeting a week ago, the reeve said yesterday.

"It doesn't mean that a precedent is being set," the reeve said, "because we have the only forest reserve in B.C. that is within a municipal boundary."

B.C. Decision Awaited

Inners, Outers Tug For Summer Ship

PORT WASHINGTON — Tug-of-war between the "inner" and "outer" Gulf Islands over summer ferries has reached an impasse as combatants impatiently await a decision by the B.C. highways department.

But neither side is relaxing its grip. Salt Spring Island wants to hang on to the Motor Princess and Delta Princess—the largest of the inter-island ferries—and relegate one or both of the small ferries to the outer islands.

The smaller ferries, based at Salt Spring, are the Cy Peck and the George S. Pearson. They are unsuited for outer-islands service, the outer islands contend.

The outer islands want the larger Motor Princess, which has keel construction best suited for the run.

growing traffic demands, especially during the tourist season.

The outer islands say they are looking to Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi for a "square deal" in coming through with the "long-promised" large ferry.

Salt Spring has also kept after the B.C. cabinet. Decision is expected soon because summer ferry schedules are due to start in two weeks.

Man Who Gave Up Licence Fined for Driving Without It

PORT ALBERNI — A man who said he had surrendered his licence voluntarily for medical reasons was charged in Port Alberni court Wednesday with driving while his licence was under suspension.

Cecil Clifton pleaded guilty but told the court that he had applied for return of his licence and that it should have been returned before the time of the offence for which he was charged.

The accused said he had been in perfect health for some time and that it was close to three years ago that his licence had been suspended for medical reasons, due to a head injury.

Magistrate A. Crozier imposed a fine of $50.

Arthur Wynan, pleading guilty to a charge of careless driving as result of an accident on April 9, was fined $50.

Giovanni Salustro was fined $15 when he pleaded guilty to driving without headlights during night hours.

A fine of $20 was imposed on Fred Gus who was charged with being intoxicated off the Indian reserve. According to the city prosecutor, this was the 12th conviction on similar charges for Gus since 1950.

Gerry S. Joseph and Terence Garner pleaded guilty as minors to being in possession of liquor. Each was fined $20 in connection with an incident on Franklin River Road when police had searched a car and found an open carton of beer.

A third youth pleaded not guilty and was remanded until April 25 for trial.

Nanaimo Mailmen in Dark About 24-Hour Stoppage

NANAIMO—Nanaimo postal employees have not received official notification of a possible 24-hour work stoppage to be called by their national organization.

Norm McLaren, president of the Nanaimo Postal Employees Association, said Wednesday they knew little of the walkout as their secretary had been out of town.

He indicated the local group would probably follow suit. Fourteen of the 16 postal clerks employed here are members of the organization.

Ross Will Open Highland Games

NANAIMO — Lieutenant Governor Frank Ross will open the 1960 Upper-Island Highland Games in Nanaimo May 9, Pete McCusker, Nanaimo Caledonian Society representative, said last night.

The one-day event is billed as one of the summer highlights of 1960 and will feature pipers and athletes from Victoria, Vancouver, Portland, Seattle and Vancouver Island points.

Arrangements are being made to bring the Seaford Highlanders band and the Powell River Pipe Band.

Representatives of the organizing clubs are Alex Alnutt, Campbell River; Jim Henderson, Cumberland; Bill Hallan, Ladysmith; Elliot McLellan, Qualicum Beach and Mr. McCusker.

Fire Hall Conversion Fund Totals $1,400

PARKSVILLE — More than $1,400 has been donated towards the reconstruction of Parksville's old fire hall to convert it into an attractive tourist bureau. Eric Parsley, finance chairman for the project sponsored by Parksville and District Chamber of Commerce, said that another $375 has been promised for the job. About $3,000 will be required to cover all expenses which will be entailed.

B.C. Ready with First $50,000 for World's Starving Children

Premier Bennett yesterday blamed the federal government for delay in a provincial program designed to provide up to $1,000,000 for relief of starvation in underdeveloped countries.

But he said that an order-in-council designed to provide the first $50,000 installment will go before the cabinet for approval this week.

He said the government had originally intended to seek the money from the legislature but was prevented from doing so when the federal government failed to reply to a B.C. request for a federal-provincial conference on the relief plan.

The money will be obtained by special warrant and administered by the Premier's Committee for World Relief under the chairmanship of Health Minister E. C. Martin.

Other members of the committee are Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, former director-general of the United Nations technical assistance administration, and Welfare Minister Wesley Black.

The premier said preliminary studies indicate that the fund would probably have maximum effect if directed to the UN's International Children's Emergency Fund.

Asked if he did not think there might be some objection by British Columbians to expenditure of provincial revenue outside the province, the premier pointed out that there were few objections when B.C. sent relief to residents of a flooded English community two years ago. When a reporter pointed out that Manitoba had cancelled plans for a relief program for these reasons, Premier Bennett replied, "just because Manitoba gets cold feet... doesn't affect British Columbia."

Who's He? Asks Bennett

Challenge Brings Chuckle

Premier Bennett yesterday chuckled over a byelection challenge hurled earlier in the day by Oak Bay Progressive Conservative candidate James A. A. George.

Told by reporters that Mr. George had said an early Oak Bay byelection would be a test of the Social Credit government's popularity — particularly with respect to the Wenner-Gren development in northern B.C. — the premier asked, "Who's he? I never heard of him."

He said Oak Bay electors would get a chance to go to the polls before the next session of the legislature, but with an arch smile he refused to say whether they would be voting in a general election or a byelection.

When a reporter mentioned that Liberal Leader Ray Perrault had indicated he might run in an Oak Bay byelection, the premier quipped, "The Liberals don't run at all now, they creep."

The Oak Bay seat became vacant March 4 with the death of P. A. Gibbs, Liberal member since 1952.

Little Boy Hurt On Museum Trip

A seven-year-old boy who found the exhibits of the Provincial Museum irresistible was struck by a car yesterday as he crossed a street with his little brother on the way home from a regular visit. Wayne Saby, 320 Menzies, was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was treated for head injuries and abrasions.

SATISFACTORY

Hospital officials said last night the boy was in satisfactory condition.

The accident occurred at Menzies and Quebec about 4 p.m. Driver of the car was John Allen, 3039 Shelbourne, police said.

Glenn Saby, Wayne's father, said the boy loves to go to the museum and had made one of his regular visits yesterday with his five-year-old brother, Daryl.

ON WAY HOME

They were on the way home when the accident happened, he said.

"The first we heard of the accident was when Daryl came running home and said his brother had been hit," Mr. Saby said. "My wife and I arrived to find him lying on the street crying. The police were there seconds later."

"Apparently they were both trying to cross the street near the legislative building driveway when Wayne was hit," he said.

Nanaimo Capital In Defence Test

NANAIMO—Nanaimo could be the capital of British Columbia for one day if a civil defence exercise comes off as planned.

An over-all civil defence exercise to test the province's new zoning has been planned for May 3, when Premier Bennett and some of his cabinet ministers and deputy ministers will move to Nanaimo for the day.

Harold Snider, co-ordinator of the Vancouver Island area, said the exercise would involve approximately 150 people.

An exercise headquarters would be established at Camp Nanaimo where army, provincial and Emergency Measures Organization officials would test the province's emergency communications.

A permanent civil defence co-ordinator will be located here under the province's new set-up. He will be one of the six planned for British Columbia.

234 Scouts, Guides

High Honors In Scouting

Thunderbird Park was a sea of badges Wednesday afternoon—badges worn proudly by 234 of the outstanding Boy Scouts and Girl Guides of British Columbia.

The 172 Scouts and 62 Guides, from all parts of the province, are to be honored today at Government House, when Lieutenant-Governor Frank M. Ross will present them with the highest service awards of their organizations—the Queen's Scout certificate and the Gold Cord for the Girl Guides.

LUNCHEON

Ceremony will take place at 2:15, following a luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. Ross. Mr. Ross will be acting in his capacity as patron of the Boy Scouts.

NAVY SHIPS

Scouts and Guides from the mainland arrived at Esquimalt yesterday aboard HMCS Fraser and HMCS Beacon Hill. They joined 22 Victoria and Island Scouts and Guides at Thunderbird Park to meet the families with whom they will be billeted during their stay.

This morning they are to tour the legislative buildings and the provincial museum and swim at the Crystal Garden. They will assemble at noon at Thunderbird Park, go by bus from there to Government House, and be presented to Mr. and Mrs. Ross for the luncheon.

COUNCIL DINNER

They will march back to the park following the ceremonies, and attend a B.C. Boy Scout Council dinner at the Empress Hotel at 6:15.

Mill Bay Ferry Off

The Brentwood-Mill Bay ferry will be out of service from Monday to Friday next week while the Mv. Mill Bay undergoes annual overhaul. Service will resume with the 8 a.m. sailing from Brentwood Saturday, April 30.

Chamber Supports Wharf at Sidney

A plan for a fishermen's wharf for Sidney won the support of the Sidney-North Saanich Chamber of Commerce last night.

The wharf site would be on Rest Haven Drive between Harbor Road and the hospital causeway. Some 300 feet of channel would have to be dredged for access.

The plan was presented by Axel Ostrom, president of the Sidney local of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union.

A petition circulated last month got 200 signatures. Peter Payne, a marina operator, told the chamber that marinas of the area supported the plan in principle but urged that the wharf be exclusively for fishermen.

Fire in Sidney Store Causes Heavy Damage

Fire in a rear stock room at Bernard Shaw's women's wear shop in Sidney last night caused heavy smoke and heat damage to merchandise. Sidney volunteer fire department had the blaze under control within minutes.

Mr. Shaw said he could not estimate the damage until he was able to have a good look in the daylight. The store will likely be closed for a week for redecorating, he said. The stock was fully insured. Firemen are still investigating cause of the blaze.

It's Time Now for Suggestions About City's New Sign Bylaw

Now, while a new sign bylaw is being drafted, is the time for suggestions from all "for suggestions from all angles," city public works chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edge low said yesterday.

He was commenting on a suggestion from the retail merchants' group of the Chamber of Commerce that a sign bylaw should be for the benefit of the whole city and should safeguard Victoria's charm.

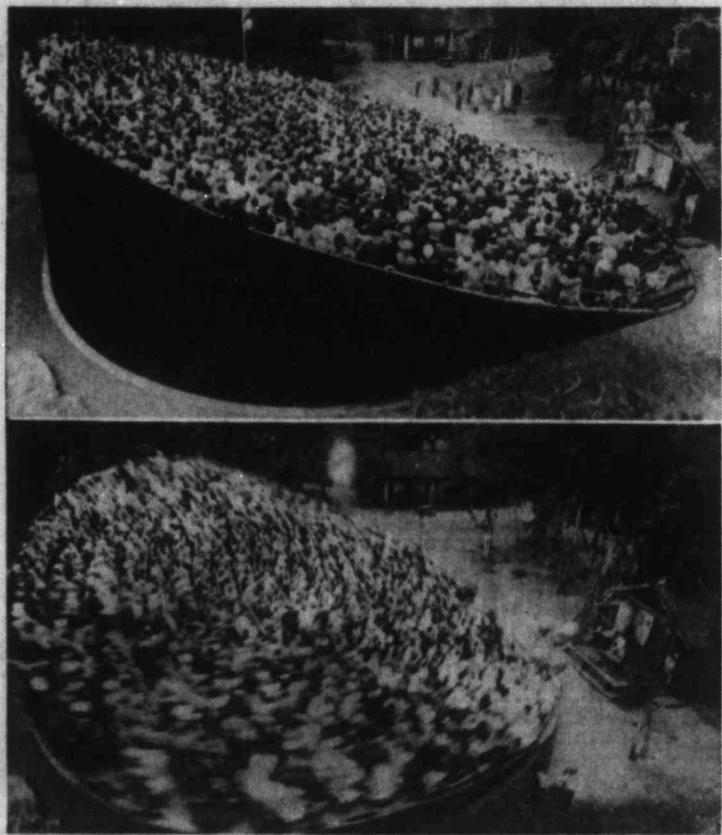

Ald. Edgewood said all suggestions will be welcomed, and added that he would be glad to have retail merchants' representatives present when the drafted bylaw is presented to the committee.

Mayor Percy Scourrah applauded the group's attitude. "It could be of great importance in the appearance of the city and in the effectiveness of the signs, too, if there was more regulation than we have at the moment."

Winch Charges:

Low-Paid Labor For Wenner-Gren

VANCOUVER (CP)—Outspoken CCFer Harold Winch said Wednesday he has heard that Swedish industrialist Axel Wenner-Gren is recruiting low-paid European labor for work in the Rocky Mountain Trench development in British Columbia.

Mr. Winch, member of Parliament for Vancouver East, told a meeting of more than 550 unemployed workers here that a Danish friend had reported Wenner-Gren interests have been advertising in Danish papers for tradesmen.

"NOWHERE NEAR"

"And the rates are nowhere near the trade union rates in B.C.," Mr. Winch added. Secretary Pat O'Neal of the B.C. Federation of Labor also told of advertising campaigns in Holland and Denmark.

"We must do all we possibly can to prevent it," Mr. O'Neal said.

Attorney-General Bonner, who is also trade and industries minister, commented later in an interview that the memorandum of agreement between the B.C. government and Wenner-Gren B.C. Development Company stipulates preference shall be given to B.C. labor and materials.

He thought the report was a "malicious rumor," adding: "There is no scarcity of B.C. tradesmen and I am quite certain a corporation incorporated in the province, such as Wenner-Gren B.C. Development, would not for a moment contemplate such a practice." Company officials were not available for comment.

A-Testing Opposition Outlined to de Gaulle

From CP and UPI

OTTAWA—Canada's opposition to further testing of nuclear weapons was reaffirmed in talks with French President Charles de Gaulle, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said yesterday.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the French president "gave the impression that patience and perseverance was preferable to haste in the approach to problem's dividing the East and the West."

De Gaulle told the prime minister that "a detente (easing of tensions) between the two would greatly facilitate the eventual solution of individual problems."

In Quebec City yesterday President de Gaulle told a Laval University audience that French life and thought are "indispensable if the free world is to go on."

So for the last 1,000 applicants, Ches has had to, settle for nemesis, the current offering. Any readers who also asked for this seed, will get a double supply to brighten their gardens.

School Tax Boost Adds $3 to Home

Victoria city's school tax rate for 1960 will be 19.39 mills, up 6/10 of a mill from last year's, City Comptroller Dennis Young computed yesterday.

The increase is equal to 60 cents on each $1,000 of taxable assessment, or about $3 on the average home.

PENTICTON (CP)—A university professor loosed a blast at conventional thinking in education Wednesday night, and picked a convention of parent-teacher groups to do it.

Prof. Alan Thomas of the U.B.C. extension department boosted radio and television as the best means of teaching, and derided the printed word as the "greatest form of anaesthetic."

LIBRARIES, TOO

Similarly, he told the annual convention of B.C. Parent-Teacher Associations, he scorns libraries and Library Week. "National Library Week, like the vote-as-you-like-but-vote campaign, is completely irresponsible. We are saying in effect it doesn't matter what you read, but read. The great percentage of books today are just tripe."

NOT TRUE

The youthful professor took issue with the contention that the family has betrayed the school in the upbringing of children.

"The reverse is true," said Prof. Thomas. "The schools have betrayed the family because they have tried, and are still trying, to assimilate the children."

DON'T KNOW

"Just how we can stop this trend I don't know. The tendency grows, and is still growing, and by assimilating the children schools pose an open threat to the family."

"He maintained the present generation is overly obsessed with the education of children. No previous generation was 'foolish enough to think that education stopped after childhood.'"

LAST FOR LIFE

"In the past, they planned education to last a lifetime. There should be more concern for adult education."

"Our chief concern must be our own education—what we have had and what we can obtain."

... special day

Mrs. Moore 101

Creampuffs All Around

Saturday will be a rather special day for tiny, bright-eyed Mrs. Susan Moore, a patient at Manor Private Hospital—it will be her 101st birthday.

And yesterday, as she did last year, Mrs. Moore bought creampuffs for the 18 other patients in the hospital and the staff.

Born in Cornwall, England, in 1859, Mrs. Moore is a descendant of the original pirates of Penzance—later of comic opera fame.

In 1911, at the age of 52, Mrs. Moore migrated to Canada and a few years later she married Thomas Moore, a Vancouver engineer. Mr. Moore died more than 30 years ago.

HOUSEKEEPER

After her husband's death, Mrs. Moore worked as a housekeeper until she was 65, when she retired to Victoria.

Snow Falls in Area Forecaster Baffled

Winter returned to outlying districts of Greater Victoria last night when heavy snow began to fall at Langford, Metchosin, Sooke and on the Malahat.

Weather office officials were baffled by the unscheduled snowfall. A spokesman said the temperature dropped eight degrees between 9 and 10.30 p.m. Snow began to fall about 9.30 p.m. in most areas and was expected to continue.

Death Count Rises

SEOUL (CP)—The 12-member South Korean cabinet presented its resignation this morning to President Syngman Rhee.

Their action was reported to have followed a decision to assume responsibility for the violent anti-government student riots this week.

NEXT MOVE

There was no immediate confirmation whether the 84-year-old president returned unopposed to his fourth term in an election the students claim was rigged, had accepted the resignations. The ministers quit en bloc.

Rhee's government has been officially rebuked by the United States and criticized by other countries for undemocratic handling of civilian demonstrators.

NOT AFFECTED

President Rhee, as the continuing executive power, is not subject to the ups and downs of cabinet membership.

A cabinet resignation might enable him to save face by shifting the target from himself to his departed ministers.

Heavily armed troops and police kept up a vigilant guard. The death count from Tuesday's rioting, now at 115, seems likely to reach or pass 150.

Ship Sinks Among Sharks

MANILA (UPI)—A fishing boat with 110 persons aboard and only one lifeboat, reported early today that it was sinking in the South China Sea.

The U.S. Navy destroyer Isvell was en route and a U.S. plane dropped two rubber life rafts to the 97-ton Maril V, which was foundering in an area infested with man-eating sharks.

The ship radioed, "Water in engine room. No hope. No hope."

Fulton Stuck in Lillooet

No $13,000,000, No Ride

A mere $13,000,000 might not have put federal Justice Minister Davie Fulton on a PGE freight train at Lillooet on Tuesday, but it might have won the sympathetic ear of the railroad's president.

Advised at a press conference that Mr. Fulton was denied passage on a PGE freight, Premier W. A. C. Bennett, who is also the line's president, was quick to point out that the publicly-owned railroad has never received some $13,000,000 which it claims is due from the federal government in construction and operating subsidies.

Anyway, he added, "Mr. Fulton did not contact the president of the railway."

The RCMP finally came to the rescue of the justice minister.

Mr. Fulton, now on a British Columbia tour, had to be in Pemberton, 42 miles away, for a 1.30 p.m. meeting, and the regular passenger train of the provincially-owned PGE wasn't scheduled to arrive until 6.30 p.m.

The justice minister was told he could not board the freight. Only train crew and the RCMP allowed, an official said.

An appeal to PGE head office in Vancouver was turned down.

DAVIE FULTON

W. A. C. BENNETT

Mr. Fulton travelled 14 miles on another PGE train to Shalalth, where the road ends. There he intended to take a speedboat to D'Arcy—another 14 miles—where the road begins again.

The water was too rough for speedboats, so the justice minister cooled his heels.

An RCMP Beaver aircraft happened along on "routine patrol" and took Mr. Fulton to D'Arcy, where he took a taxi to Pemberton. He arrived at 4 p.m. and told patient Conservatives he had been "detained by reasons beyond my control."

Demand Exceeds Supply

Oh, Those Sweetpeas!

When it comes right down to sweetpeas in Victoria, you just can't fill the demand.

On the M. V. Chesnut offer in Garden Notes, the order was repeated for the fourth time recently, and still there was not enough to go around.

That was a total of 25 pounds of seed—an incredible amount gathered from every possible source. But the total of nearly 13,000 readers of The Daily Colonist who requested the seed was even greater. It was an all-time record response,
